FOREST FIRES RAGE OVER MANY FRONTS IN WESTERN ALBERTA

Ontario Counting Loss in Millions of Dollars as Rain Aids in Checking Serious Outbreaks—Hundreds of Men Wage Losing Fight With Flames in Western Province

(By the Canadian Press)
FOREST fires blazed in Alberta yesterday, but fires that raged for nearly three weeks in Northern Ontario were definitely checked or altogether extinguished by rains and Forestry Branch officials prepared to disband hundreds of hastily recruited fire-fighters.

No estimate of the Ontario loss has been made, but the total is expected to reach at least several million dollars. The flames raged through valuable timber in the Algoma and Sudbury districts and in Northwestern Ontario.

WITH RENEWED FURY
No rain came to the relief of harassed Alberta, and fires burned with renewed fury. They raged in the southwest corner of the province, the west-central district and in the northwest. Extra men were rushed from Calgary to fight flames along the Brazeau river 100 miles southwest of Edmonton. Near Saunders, a blaze previously checked broke out with additional vigor.

A new fire roared over a wide front in the Flathead Valley of British Columbia, on the border of Alberta. More than 100 men fought the flames. The nearby Summer resort of Waterton National Park was not thought to be endangered. Fires in the Jasper Park area faded before the onslaught of lightning. The rainfall that brought relief Continued on Page 8, Column 8

CHARGE PAPERS WITH CONTEMPT

British Courts Guarantee Fair Trial to George Andrew McMahon

LONDON, July 22 (P)—Contempt of court charges against two London newspaper editors, character and past career of the accused in last week's attempted attack on King Edward was launched in the Court of King's Bench today.

On the application of Sir Donald Somervell, Attorney-General, the court granted rules nisi for attachment for contempt of court against the editors and publishers of The Evening News and The Daily Express.

COMPLAINT BASIS
Sir Donald told the court, consisting of the Lord Chief Justice and two judges, that the action concerned comments in the newspapers upon the proceedings against George Andrew McMahon, the man who allegedly pressed through the crowd on Constitution Hill last Thursday and leveled a revolver at the King. McMahon is charged under the Firearms Act with unlawfully having in his possession a loaded revolver with intent to endanger life and property.

The Attorney-General declared the motions for rules nisi rested on the ground newspaper comments might gravely prejudice the fair trial of the accused.

NO DIFFERENCE
English law sets forth every man is innocent until he is proved guilty. This ancient provision leaves none of its validity even though the person of the sovereign is involved, a London legal authority pointed out to the Canadian Press a few days ago in commenting on the position of English newspapers at the time of the episode on Constitution Hill.

Thousands of Cattle Must Be Removed
OTTAWA, July 22 (P)—Rapid spread northward of drought conditions in Alberta will necessitate evacuation of about 500,000 head of cattle from the province, Hon. Charles Cockfield, Alberta Treasurer today told Dominion Government Ministers.

During the last three weeks, he declared, the drought area had crept within thirty or forty miles of Edmonton.

Roosevelt Sailing on Nova Scotia Coast

President Roosevelt took command of the two-masted schooner Seawanna, and is seen at the wheel of the yacht as it moved under sail out of Pulpit Harbor, Me., at the start of the President's fourteen days of vacation on the water. He is cruising Nova Scotia waters on his way to his Campobello, N.B., Summer home.

Advance Guard of Vimy Pilgrimage Greeted at Mons

Members of Canadian Legion Official Party Met With Affection and Acclaim by Burgomaster and Citizens of Old Belgian City—Thousands More to Arrive on Saturday

(By Capt. W. W. Murray, M.C., Canadian Press Staff Writer)
MONS, Belgium, July 22 (P)—Nearly eighteen years ago an advance party of Canadian infantry filed into the darkened streets of Mons, to mark the city's deliverance from German occupation. A few hours later the final "cease fire" of the war was sounded.

Today the advance guard of the Dominion "peace-time army" came back to this old Belgian city. Led by Brig.-Gen. Alex. Ross, of Yorkton, members of the Canadian Legion official party were met with affection and acclaim by the burgomaster and citizens. Saturday many veterans now on the way across the Atlantic to the Vimy dedication ceremonies will revisit familiar scenes around Mons.

TEMPERATURES RISING AGAIN
Prairies Sweltering in Hot Weather—Heavy Rains Badly Needed

WINNIPEG, July 23 (P)—Blistering heat in southern sections of Alberta and Saskatchewan and generally clear skies over the Canadian Prairies intensified the need today for drenching rains to save crops still standing after six weeks of drought.

Eastern and central portions of Southern Alberta suffered most from the heat as the mercury climbed to 104 in Medicine Hat, up four degrees from yesterday. Lethbridge, sweltered in 97-degree weather and Calgary had a high of 96.

Southwestern Saskatchewan also was decidedly hot with 94 at Swift Current. The heat moderated farther East and it was only 88 in Moose Jaw.

Northern sections were slightly cooler, with a high of 88 at Edmonton, 88 at Battleford, Sask., 86 at Saskatoon and a "cool" 78 at Prince Albert, Sask. In Manitoba, a stiff breeze did much to ease long-suffering citizens, although Brandon recorded 88 and Winnipeg 96 degrees.

No rain fell on the Prairies, but partly cloudy weather was forecast for tomorrow in Saskatchewan and Alberta, with local thunderstorms probable. The Manitoba forecast was for much the same temperatures and "moistly fair" skies.

ONE KILLED IN FACTORY BLAST
Nine Other Persons Injured When Explosion Wrecks Building in Chicago

CHICAGO, July 22 (P)—An explosion and fire leveled the National Fur Dressing & Dyeing Company's plant today, killing one woman, injuring nine other employees and reducing the building to a mass of brick, girders and timbers.

Salvage workers toiled over the still hot ruins tonight, but were satisfied all occupants of the plant were accounted for.

Six employees of the firm, which processed raw pelts for the fur market, were in hospital with serious burns. Two firemen and a passerby were also injured, but less seriously.

COLLAPSES WITH ROAR
The factory on North Halsted Street consisted of two floors and a basement. Walls and roof collapsed with a roar, piling bricks ten feet into Halsted Street and blocking traffic for two miles in either direction.

Tangled electric wires and dense smoke from fires and cleaning materials prevented firemen for some time from reaching the wreckage. Salvage squads were summoned when the flames were finally checked and they attacked the ruins.

FIXED PRICE AUTHORIZED

B.C. Tomato and Cucumber Board Reappointed by Government

British Columbia's Hothouse Tomato and Cucumber Marketing Board was reappointed by the Government yesterday with a brand new set of powers under Provincial marketing law, including price-fixing, compensation for withholding produce from sale, registration of producer-owners, and licensing.

George W. Riddle and Quan Yuen Yen, of Victoria, and Murdoch Dingwall, of Vancouver, were reappointed as a paid marketing board, until August 31 this year, when the board is given authority to fix and collect licence fees, to determine the "spread" in marketing, to fix maximum and minimum prices, to establish a fund in connection with the scheme to be used at the board's discretion, and to compensate growers whose products are denied access to market.

The board may also seize products handled in contravention of its orders, name the agencies and the means by which marketing is to be effected, and use other and general powers conveyed under provincial marketing law, as amended.

KING MAY VISIT ALBERTA RANCH
Prime Minister Says No Information Given Dominion Government on Rumor

OTTAWA, July 22 (P)—While he hoped King Edward would find it possible to visit Canada following his coronation next Spring, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said today he doubted if His Majesty had yet considered the prospect of such a tour.

No information had been given the Dominion Government that would support the rumor now current that the Sovereign would visit his Canadian ranch next year.

UNABLE TO COME WEST
In an interview following the weekly Cabinet Council today Mr. Mackenzie King said he would be in Geneva for the League of Nations Assembly meeting September 21, but it would be "exceedingly difficult" for him to realize his hope of visiting Vancouver for that city's fiftieth anniversary celebration.

Quarried on reports, Hon. L. A. Taschereau, former Premier of Quebec, would be appointed to the Senate vacancy for Lewis, the Prime Minister said no appointment to the red chamber would be made until the eve of the next session of Parliament.

ALTERS COURSE FOR SCHOOL OF WHALES
NEW YORK, July 22 (P)—A school of thirty or thirty-five large whales feeding at the surface off the Grand Banks caused the liner Berengaria to alter her course Sunday morning officers of the ship docking here today reported.

SPANISH CIVIL WAR IS BEING FOUGHT SAVAGELY

Gibraltar Will Not Tolerate Any Further Shelling

GIBRALTAR, July 23 (P)—British authorities early today warned the commanders of Spanish warships that the guns of Gibraltar, one of the world's mightiest fortresses, were ready for instant action.

The British officials declared that if further shells fell on the great rock as a result of the warfare between Spanish rebels and loyalists, the fire would be returned by British artillery.

Conflicting Claims of Victories Leave Issue of Rebellion in Doubt—Insurgents Advancing on Madrid Meet Strong Resistance—Desperate Battle at San Sebastian

Three Warships Reported As Sunk by Air Bombing

(By the Associated Press)
A NEW Leftist Government onslaught against the rebellious military was revealed Wednesday night in Spain as the Rightist (rebellious) forces proclaimed the "imminent" fall of Madrid. The Government stated from Madrid that loyal forces held Toledo, Alcala de Henares, Guadalajara, La Granja and Almazan in Albacete Province. A rebel broadcast, however, stated the capital was ruled by a series of anti-revolutionary committees and that three motorized columns were converging on Madrid and another body of troops was marching on Barcelona.

Fresh battles, with scores reported killed and wounded, drew the country's attention to a driving rebel advance in the northern zone. Similar, only, Fascist planes and Government warships engaged in an air-sea clash, which sent shell fragments whistling into Gibraltar.

ALL-DAY BATTLE
Liberals, seeking to halt the on-marching insurgents, fought to regain the northern zone. Loyalists, aided by San Sebastian in an all-day engagement. Rightist leaders asserted they held control of large areas east and north of that town.

The situation at Barcelona, northern coast city, was in control of Leftists, where an "anti-Fascist Militia" was established to maintain order and a military police force patrolled the streets.

COMMITTEES ORGANIZED
In Madrid itself, a "Red" committee took over distribution of arms, while militiamen, aided by women, organized motor patrols to control the city.

CUT RATE FOR ELECTRICITY

A. T. Goward Announces Reduction for Householders Effective From August 1

A reduction in the price of electric current used by householders in Greater Victoria and the suburban areas about the city is announced by A. T. Goward, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Company.

The basis upon which the charges are now made calls for a 6-cent kilowatt hour, based on a certain consumption under the floor space schedule in force. Additional use of electric current over this is charged at the rate of 3 cents per kilowatt hour.

Under the new rates effective beginning August 1, the rates will be altered to 8 cents as at present for the initial current used, and 2 cents for the additional consumption.

FURTHER ADVANTAGE
There will be another advantage for the consumer under the new rule to come into effect, which consists in the lowering of the maximum consumption somewhat for the reduced rate will come into effect.

In the suburban areas outside of Greater Victoria where the service is established the new rates will be 8 and 2 cents, respectively.

It is announced by Mr. Goward that the new schedule will mean a saving to householders of $50,000 a year on the present rates. He is, however, not unmindful of the fact that the granting of cheaper rates is sure to be attended by increased consumption of electricity for various domestic purposes. The ever-increasing number of contrivances utilizing electric power forms an incentive for the application of these in households, especially where the rate is made more attractive.

CUT IN INTEREST SAVING FOR CITY

Change of Government's Rate for Municipal and Relief Loans Saves $3,000 Annually

News from the Provincial Government that interest on relief and municipal loans had been reduced from 4½ to 3½ per cent was received with satisfaction at the City Hall yesterday. The new rate of interest will mean a saving of $3,000 annually to the city.

Since 1934, the city has borrowed $300,000 from the Government. There was a share of relief loan of $24,500 in 1934, another of $100,000 in 1935, and a public works loan of $100,000 this year. D. A. Macdonald, treasurer and comptroller, explained.

J. D. Bower Is Appointed To St. Paul's

LONDON, July 22 (P)—John Dykes Bower, organist and choir-master of Durham Cathedral, today was appointed organist of St. Paul's Cathedral. This ranks with the post at Westminster Abbey as the most notable position of its kind in the world.

Bower succeeds Dr. Stanley Marchant, appointed principal of the Royal Academy of Music. It is unusual for an organist of St. Paul's to take another position. Marchant was given a title never previously conferred—organist emeritus.

NEW CATHEDRAL IS BEING BUILT

Archbishop Lays Foundation Stone Outside Town of Guildford, Surrey

LONDON, July 22 (P)—The Archbishop of Canterbury today laid the foundation stone of Guildford Cathedral, only the second Anglican cathedral to be built from its foundations since the Reformation.

Guildford Cathedral will stand on rising ground outside the town of Guildford, in Surrey. The site has been almost equally condemned and applauded.

LIVERPOOL CATHEDRAL
The other cathedral built completely since the Reformation is Liverpool. It was started thirty years ago but was designed on such immense lines that though building has proceeded steadily it is still far from complete.

It is estimated that the cost of Guildford will be about equivalent to the cost of building the tower alone of Liverpool Cathedral.

Guildford diocese was created in 1927. Previously it was mostly in the ancient diocese of Winchester.

EPISCOPAL RESIDENCE
The bishop of Guildford, Dr. John Victor Macmillan, has his episcopal residence at Farnham Castle, medieval stronghold in which the bishops of Winchester lived for centuries. But modern holders of the bishopric found it was a costly white elephant and the castle eventually was converted into convenient residential quarters with accommodation for general diocesan organizations.

PROMINENT REPUBLICAN DEAD
DUBLIN, Irish Free State, July 22 (P)—Sir Osmond Grattan Edmund, forty, prominent Republican member of the Dail, died suddenly today.

B.C. Museum Given Marine Mystery in Polka-Dotted Fish

Chubby, Large Flatfish, With Skyblue Body, White Dots, Scarlet Fins and Dreamy Eyes Puzzles Experts—Taken at Kynquod in Troll

PROVINCIAL authorities at the British Columbia Museum scratched their heads yesterday in puzzlement over a sky-blue flatfish with red fins and something of a beauty-parlor countenance. Immediate efforts at identification failed, though cautious opinions were expressed that the fish came from tropical waters before it was caught on a salmon troll off Kynquod.

Sent by a West Coast fisherman to the museum, the Kynquod "what-sha," for want of a better name, was examined with great interest, as nothing of the kind has been seen by museum officials here before.

Twenty-two inches long, fourteen inches deep and of the general shape of a turbot or other flatfish, the strange "catch" is of a light blue color all over, with scarlet red fins.

HIGHLY COLORED
For the benefit of marine biologists the Kynquod curiosity has a dorsal fin some seven inches in length and a small mouth complete a vivid, unusual picture.

Conference Studies Ways of Increasing Wheat Consumption

Nineteen Countries Represented at Meeting in London—World Wheat Stocks Appear to Be About Normal, Speaker States

LONDON, July 22 (P).—The international wheat advisory committee, established by the world wheat conference in 1933, devoted itself in the course of its eighth session today to the problem of increasing wheat consumption.

Before it was a report from the president, the committee considered the world wheat situation in 1933-37 season.

F. L. McDougall presided at the meeting, at which nineteen countries are represented, including Canada, the United States and Argentina, three of the biggest wheat-producing countries.

Augustin Edwards, Chilean Ambassador in London, opened the debate. He said that if new crops in the Southern Hemisphere were about average in size, it appeared probable that world wheat stocks in August, 1937, would be of only normal proportions or roughly 450,000,000 bushels less than the peak reached in August, 1934.

DANGER OF REACCUMULATION
Edwards said, however, that at the present level of consumption the danger of reaccumulation of burdensome wheat surpluses had not been averted but merely postponed.

Emphasizing that to increase the consumption of wheat seemed a policy that would enlist the sympathies of both producers and consumers, Edwards suggested that the committee should start an inquiry to ascertain the possibilities of creating an international revolving wheat reserve. He proposed this be controlled and financed by an international body and that its reserves be drawn on from time to time to meet the needs of regions and countries which could not afford to pay current commercial prices.

The delegates generally welcomed the proposal. The chairman said if measures could be recommended leading to increased consumption of wheat in populous regions, especially Asia, a great service would be rendered to mankind.

EXPORTS ARE ESTIMATED
The committee was advised that the tentative figure for world exports of wheat, flour next season was 325,000,000 bushels, as against an estimated 310,000,000 bushels for the 1935-36 season.

The production figure for 1936 among European wheat exporting countries, exclusive of Russia, was also up, estimated at 400,000,000 bushels as against 375,000,000 in 1935.

But production for European wheat importing countries this year, the secretary estimated, would drop to 1,085,000,000 bushels, compared with 1,170,000,000 in 1935.

After several extensions of time, the committee is scheduled to expire July 31. But sources in close touch with it said the nineteen nations represented were expected to vote for a continuance of its activities.

Queen Mary May

Seek New Record

SOUTHAMPTON, England, July 22 (CP-Havas).—The liner Queen Mary sailed for New York tonight after being laid up for five days in drydock. It was thought possible she might make an attempt this voyage to break the Atlantic record from the French liner Normandie.

The adjustments her turbines and propellers just completed were expected to increase her speed. She carried 1,785 passengers.

TOPEKA, KAN., July 22 (P).—In sharp contrast to the tense campaign days ahead, Alf M. Landon devoted the eve of his formal acceptance of the Republican presidential nomination today to routine tasks of the Kansas governorship, and to greeting party visitors.

Shirt sleeved and chatty, he received callers who trickled in from the crowds already swarming downtown Topeka as the first of Republican thousands arrived by train, plane and motor for tomorrow's elaborate nomination ceremonies.

IN HANDS OF PRINTERS
The address in which Landon formally will assume leadership of the Republican party and point the course of its attempt to unseat the New Deal, was in the hands of printers. Aides forecast emphasis on the farm problem, relief and employment, Government finance, the labor movement and the constitution.

The Chamber of Commerce predicted that more than 50,000 will be within hearing of Landon's voice over the loud-speaking system installed for the occasion.

Landon's only set appointment tomorrow was a luncheon with members of the Republican national committee and the notification committee.

The Saffron Creek camp is being used this year as a base camp of the British Columbia Mountaineering Club, and Sierra Club party.

After scrambling over the sheer bluffs of Dutchman Head at the mouth of the Franklin River, he reached James R. Stanion's place up the Klunaklini River in an exhausted condition, with clothes badly torn and boots worn out.

TAKEN TO CANNERY
"He was taken to Glendale Cannery where he met the Wiesner party and tried to get them to help him to their number. They refused."

"Boyer is said to have had a run-in with a grizzly on Franklin River."

The Wiesner party is headed by Fritz H. Wiesner, of New York, and includes Elizabeth P. Woolsey, of New Haven, Conn.; William House, who joined Wiesner in Pittsburgh, and Allan Wilcox, who has had years of experience in the Alps and Rockies.

The other party attacking the peak is composed of members of the British Columbia Mountaineering Club and the Sierra Club of California.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Monday left here on July 10 on an attempt to scale another peak in the Waddington district, which has been tentatively named Mount Sullivan.

Where the King Will Spend Vacation

A view of the Chateau de L'Horizon, between Cannes and Cap d'Antibes, on the French Riviera, where King Edward VIII is expected to arrive shortly after unveiling Canada's Memorial at Vimy Ridge, and to stay until early in September. The magnificent villa was built at a cost of $400,000 by Maxine Elliott, American actress. As can be seen, the plunge is one of the most impressive of private pools.

Hotels Find Trade Better In Vancouver
VANCOUVER, July 22 (P).—Vancouver's larger hotels report business from 10 to 50 per cent better this month than during the same month last year and, for the first time since 1929, one establishment said it had guests lined up waiting for places in the dining-room during the past week.

The hotel managers said the increase in business was due to a wave of better business which has swept up the North Pacific Coast and not caused by jubilee attractions, as most of the jubilee visitors stay at smaller hotels, boarding houses and private homes.

DOMINIONS CAN PLAY BIG PART
Sir Samuel Hoare Calls Attention to Burden Carried by British Taxpayer

LONDON, July 22 (P).—The financial burden which the navy lays on the shoulders of the British taxpayer was called to the attention of an informal conference of the Empire Parliamentary Association by Sir Samuel Hoare, First Lord of the Admiralty, tonight.

"The very deep interest which the other peoples of the Empire have in this matter may suggest to them ways of sharing the burden," he said.

The solidarity of the British Commonwealth upon the sea was the theme of Sir Samuel's address. He said this was once more demonstrated by the co-operation with the British fleet in the recent Mediterranean crisis of two Australian cruisers and one New Zealand cruiser. The Admiralty was grateful for this co-operation, he said, as a symbol of the unity of purpose inspiring the Empire.

LOCAL DEFENCE IMPORTANT
At least one direction in which other parts of the Empire can help to lighten the Mother Country's naval burden, he suggested, was in the matter of local defence. In taking adequate measures in this regard they would be making a real contribution to the general security of the Commonwealth.

"Next year we shall have a welcome and appropriate opportunity of discussing at the Imperial Conference the manifold problems which our task entails," Sir Samuel continued.

"Centuries of experience," he said, "confirm our conviction that a strong British Empire is the greatest guarantee of the peace of the world."

The meeting was held in pursuance of last year's decision of the association to hold informal conferences annually in London in order to maintain continuity between plenary sessions.

DENIES GETTING PART OF RANSOM
Former St. Paul Chief of Police Says He Got No Part of Hamm Money

ST. PAUL, July 22 (P).—Tom Brown, suspended St. Paul police officer and a former chief of the force, denied in Federal court today he received $25,000 of the $100,000 William Hamm, Jr., ransom money.

He testified as a defence witness in the trial of John (Jack) Peifer, former night club operator, on kidnapping conspiracy charges.

Brown denied he told Tom Dahill, former chief of police, who was an earlier Government witness, that "the people of 204 Vernon Avenue had no connection with the Hamm kidnapping" after he made an investigation. Brown's statement contradicted testimony of Dahill.

Byron Bolton, principal Government witness, testified Brown was paid for informing the kidnappers of police activities following the July 15, 1933, abduction.

DENIES ALLEGATIONS
Contradicting testimony of Bolton, Brown, a member of the St. Paul police for twenty-two years, also denied he was introduced to Fred Goetz, alias George "Biggun" Ziegler, reported "brains" of the kidnap gang, who was slain after the Bremer kidnapping. He admitted that he knew Peifer, the defendant.

Brown was a member of the kidnap detail at the time of the kidnapping. Meantime, County Attorney M. F. Kinkaid, Ramsey County attorney, announced he had started an investigation of Brown's possible connection with the case and promised "vigorous action" if evidence warrants.

Brown was suspended as head of the police auto and taxi division last week following Bolton's testimony.

A canal now connects the Baltic and White Seas, making it possible for ships to go from Leningrad to Archangel and thence to the long northern trip around Scandinavia.

THREE CONVICTED AS GERMAN SPIES
Woman and Two Men Sent to Prison for Selling French Military and Diplomatic Secrets to Germany

PARIS, July 22 (P).—A woman and two men were convicted today of delivering French military and diplomatic secrets to Germany.

Madame Quirel, former employer of the Foreign Office, was sentenced with her husband to two years in prison.

Dr. Leon Barre, physician brother-in-law of Quirel, was sentenced to a four-year term.

Madame Quirel was accused of obtaining confidential documents on French relations with the Little Entente, which others passed to a German spy in Switzerland.

Pet Alligator Took Bite Out Of His Master

PHILADELPHIA, July 22 (P).—Daniel R. Mannix, Jr., strode into a hospital clad only in an overcoat. "I've been bitten by an alligator," he said.

The nurse called an interne, and the interne called several doctors. "They seemed," mused Mannix, "to have the idea I was joking or had been drinking."

His explanation: He keeps an alligator in his swimming pool. The saurian bit him while he dressed a wound in its mouth.

His bathing trunks also were severely damaged in the struggle, and the overcoat—well, it was the nearest thing handy.

Gold Flowing to Banks in Alaska
ANCHORAGE, Alaska, July 22 (P).—Gold nuggets and dust from interior placer fields trickled into banks here today from the first clean-ups of the season.

Winfield Ervin, banker, said the first virgin gold received was worth approximately $75,000 and came considerably in advance of the usual time. He said the peak would be reached in late August or early September. Banks were forwarding the nuggets and dust to the United States Assay Office.

Recent rains in the interior displaced a large amount of material for placer operations. O. S. Sullivan, collector of Internal revenue, said upon returning from a tour of the region. He said mines were running full blast.

PLEDGES AID TO FARMERS
Bracken Tells Manitoba Voters Residents of Drought Areas to Be Helped

WINNIPEG, July 22 (P).—Continued assistance to farmers of drought-stricken areas in Southern Manitoba is pledged by Premier John Bracken.

The present drought crisis makes plainer, than ever that drought problems are national and no longer problems of individual farms, a few communities or even individual provinces, the Premier declared.

He was addressing electors in the Deioraine constituency, in which Errick P. Willis, Conservative leader, is a candidate in the Provincial elections next Monday. Mr. Willis also spoke in the riding, contending Mr. Bracken's Liberal-Progressive Government had done nothing to assist agriculture during its fourteen years in power.

Mr. Bracken said Dominion contributions to Manitoba drought districts to date had been $306,800. Those by the Province exceeded $2,137,331.

DEBTS TO BE WRITTEN OFF
The debts of the drought area municipalities to the Government for agricultural and direct relief advances of the past five years were to be written off. Agricultural representatives were to be placed in the drought areas to assist in rehabilitation plans and in establishment of suitable production practices.

The Government would continue to co-operate with the municipalities in providing seed, feed, direct relief and necessary works.

Mr. Willis contended farm improvements were dearer this year under the Federal Liberal administration than they had been in 1935 under the Conservative Government. Grain prices, until disaster hit the 1936 crops, were substantially lower than in 1935. Cassoline prices generally were higher and livestock prices were definitely lower.

MOBILIZING YOUNG MEN

College and University Graduates Will Form "Intelligentsia" Body

Plans are under way for the organization of 1,000,000 college and university graduates, who have served in the army as cadets, into a body of ex-service "intelligentsia" to act as a medium of contact between the army and the people and help realize the renovation policies of the Government and the national mobilization plans of the army, the journal Jiji discloses.

The idea was said to have originated with the Sakuraki, or Cherry Blossom Society, composed of army officers and civil leaders, including such men as Purnio Gino, former Home Minister, and Marquis Yasu-masa Matsudaira, chief secretary of the Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal, as a means of dealing with the situation subsequent to the February 26 incident.

These ex-service men are those who, because of the previous military training they received in school and college, became cadets, or candidates for commissions, when called to service in the army. Now employed in business and industry, their co-operation in execution of national policies and in time of national mobilization would be of great value, it is believed.

The unit of organization is to be the college or university from which the former cadets were graduated, or the regiment in which they served. These groups would be combined into divisional units, with general headquarters in Tokyo, from which control of units all over the country would be exercised. Branch headquarters would be established in important centres.

A start in the organization will be made with former cadets from Keio, Tokio Imperial and Waseda Universities. A committee of Kelo men who served in the Imperial Guards Division are already working on the scheme.

LOWER MAINLAND HONEY YIELD WILL BE LIGHT

NEW WESTMINSTER, July 22 (P)—Heavy spring rains and floods in the Fraser Valley have resulted in a scarcity of clover, dandelion, thistle and other blossoms and will seriously curtail this season's honey yield, beekeepers announce.

The average honey yield in British Columbia is around 750 tons and it is estimated this figure will be cut by approximately 40 per cent this year.

DR. JAMES L. BARTON DEAD

TREATY WITH NEW ZEALAND IS EXTENDED

Trade Agreement to Continue in Effect for Another Year

NEW ACCORD TO BE FRAMED MEANTIME

OTTAWA, July 22 (P)—Orders-in-council passed today in Ottawa and Wellington extended the life of the Canada-New Zealand trade agreement for another year, making the date of expiration September 30, 1937. It is expected that before then the two Governments will have carried out discussions on a new agreement and preliminary conversations to that end have already been held.

The Canadian order extending the agreement was adopted at today's session of Cabinet Council and announced by Prime Minister Mackenzie King. There has been some discussion of sending a trade mission to New Zealand and Australia but it is now considered likely all the necessary negotiations for new agreements with both countries will be carried out when the Imperial Conference takes place in London next Spring.

Canada's trading agreements with New Zealand have already been subjected to revisions and extensions. Under the terms of the original document it was made possible to effect these alterations and extensions by order-in-council with mutual agreement between the two Governments.

There is infinite happiness in this world if we make up our mind to look for it in the right places.

At New French Legation

Premier King officiated at the laying of the corner-stone of the new French Legation in Canada, which is now being erected in Ottawa. The building will be surrounded on three sides by gardens, and will contain a magnificent ballroom and reception room. The new building will cost $400,000. Premier King and Hon. Raymond Bruere are shown above at the ceremony.

C. MULVEY PLEADS GUILTY TO PASSING WORTHLESS CHEQUES

VANCOUVER, July 22 (P)—

Charles Mulvey today pleaded guilty in police court to three charges of passing worthless cheques, and was remanded to Monday for sentence. The cheques totaled $90.

The city prosecutor said other charges involving a total of $130 had been laid in Victoria, and copies were being forwarded here.

Mulvey, who was arrested at Kamloops on Sunday, while en route by train to Ottawa, is an Ottawa barrister and son of the late Thomas Mulvey, one-time Secretary of State.

HEALTH ROLL PROCEEDING

Eighteen Thousand B.C. Employers of Labor Asked to Register

Eighteen thousand employers of labor are to be registered under the British Columbia Health Insurance Act. It was stated yesterday at offices of the Health Commission here. Of these, 3,000 employers have already complied by returning completed the mandatory registration forms sent out by the commission last week.

The first returns are from employers with relatively small staffs, involving one and two employees in some instances. A few requested additional information from the commission, and this will be furnished without delay by mail. For the most part, the forms were completed as presented, and returned to head offices of the board here.

IS REGISTRATION

The receiving staff, assisting the commission in the compilation and analysis of the resultant data, expressed gratification at the co-operation shown by those who have complied with the request for registration. Return of the completed forms effects full registration under the act, it was explained.

Actual health levies, based on authority in the act to require 2 per cent of wage cheques and 1 per cent of payrolls in respect to employees receiving less than $1,800 per annum will not start until December, the commission has already intimated.

According to Dr. H. T. Stetson, of Harvard University, radio reception is affected by the phases of the moon, and is stronger when the moon is below the horizon, indicating electronic tides in the atmosphere above the earth.

OPEN GOLF TOURNAMENT

It has been proposed for several years past that Victoria should have an open golf tournament to be participated in by both professionals and amateurs, and now the competition is arranged and will be staged in the city. It has, from time to time, had the good fortune to have visits from world-renowned professionals, among them names that are household words. They have, however, merely played exhibition matches here. The tournament of next week is for money prizes aggregating $3,000, and it is attracting some dozen of the most noted professionals on the continent, including the winner of the American Open, Tony Manero. Among others there will be the noted stylist, MacDonald Smith; a big prize winner in Harry Cooper, and in all a galaxy of talent such as never assembled here before.

It will depend on the manner in which Victorians support the venture of an open tournament whether it will be made an annual event. It should be, for there is no doubt whatever that it would attract continent-wide attention to this city, and in mid-summer at the height of the tourist season. It would, indeed, prove one of the major attractions of that season, and the visitors when they experience the perfect climatic playing conditions here will undoubtedly come again, and add to their ranks. Those who go to see play in the tournament are assured of as high a standard of golf as can be seen anywhere. There is nothing in the same way as such an open tournament, and the names figuring in it, that will put Victoria on the golfing map.

A PRESIDENT-DICTATOR

Mr. de Valera, the Irish Free State President, is nothing if not ambitious. He is aiming now to become President-Dictator, and to make the post permanent. That is said to be his object in his announced intention to abolish the office of Governor-General and to replace it by an elected head of the State. It is axiomatic that Mr. de Valera has himself in mind in this change. The new head of the State is to have very wide powers and the office is to be a permanent whatever may be the fluctuations of political fortunes. The office of President is to be analogous to the Presidency of the French Republic, but with much wider powers than are possessed by the occupant in France. In the Free State it is claimed that the President will have the right to appoint and dismiss Premiers.

During the next few months the last appropriation will be made for the Governor-General's establishment, and by next April a new Constitution will be in force, if approved by the Dail and by the people at an election. The speculation now is if, before such an election, Mr. de Valera will resign the leadership of the Government and run for the Presidency. That course would enable him to escape from many troubles which have been accumulating around him in recent years. It might, too, mean that if elected President his own future would be secure, provided that a Government opposed to him did not change the Constitution again.

MR. ROBERT ROGERS

The late Mr. Robert Rogers, so long known in the politics of the country, both Federal and Provincial, had qualities that won him a host of friends. As a politician behind the scenes he was an excellent organizer, and his persuasiveness and bonhomie were factors in his success on the political stage. He was, too, an excellent entertainer, and one who maintained to the end an enthusiastic interest in the problems of the country, problems with which his long career in politics made him closely acquainted. In Winnipeg, Mr. Rogers was an institution, and it is there that his chery presence, which spread the spirit of camaraderie at so many gatherings, will be keenly missed. On and off for almost half a century he had appeared in the political life of the country, and always as an arresting figure. He was of the type that has a flair for politics, and Mr. Rogers had friends from one end of the Dominion to the other who will mourn his passing.

TOC H COMES OF AGE

The coming of age of Toc H should stimulate a movement that has, during the past two decades, done much to foster the higher elements of manhood. It is one of the few flowers that grew in the arid soil of the Great War. Toc H is the Army signaller's nomenclature for T.H., which stood for Talbot House, the soldiers' club opened in 1915 at Poperinghe, the nearest habitable spot behind the Ypres Salient. Here men of all ranks, social and military, and of all creeds, sang and ate and drank, and took Holy Communion together, in fellowship in the face of a common danger. It was a "refuge for a space from the noise and heat of battle."

The war over, the link keeper and chaplain, the Rev. P. B. Clayton, resettled and enlarged the movement that had been so helpfully begun at Poperinghe. With the patronage of the present King, then Prince of Wales, Toc H became to many men a fellowship of disinterested service and self-sacrifice. The Borstal System for the redemption of delinquents owes much to Toc H. Due largely to the "infectious enthusiasm and organizing ability" of its founder, it has become Empire-wide. In the British Isles there are 426 branches and 620 groups of incipient branches, and overseas the lamp of maintenance has been carried to 106 branches and 284 groups. Canada has thirty-eight units and two houses.

Victoria has, or did have, one of these units. Here for a term burned the lamp of maintenance. Now for two years or more that light has been dimmed. It may be the time has come for a revival here of Toc H. There are, it is true, many men's clubs in this city, but Toc H stands for a certain quality of manhood, especially among younger men. It incites to individual, unregimented social service of the deeper sort, inspired by the Christian spirit. The message of the King may well be taken to heart, read at the recent coming-of-age celebration in the Crystal Palace by the Duke of Kent, who lighted, on that occasion, 104 lamps of maintenance: "As your patron, I look confidently to Toc H to take its share, by fellowship, by service, and by ever-deepening thought, in solving the problems that lie before us, and I wish you God-speed in your task."

RIGHT TO WEAR SHORTS

A man in the East has got into trouble with the police for defying the heat by wearing only shorts and a singlet; indeed, there is some doubt if the latter article of clothing was a covering at all. The gravity of the offence, however, lies in the fact that the man is sixty-five years of age; apparently more decorum in clothes is expected from one who exceeds six decades. The man is indignant over the attention he has attracted, and claims he will fight his right to wear shorts even if it has to be carried to the highest court in the land.

The incident is only of interest in attracting attention to the discrimination shown by authority as between the sexes in a sartorial way. One of the female sex can wear anything, or hardly anything, without getting into trouble. It is different with men. They become objects of scorn and derision if they violate their clothing conventions, and even when they discard some of their apparel in exceptionally warm weather they are looked at askance. In the male lexicon it is never too hot for dignity. There is perhaps a departure from this standard in the order issued by Premier Hepburn, of Ontario, permitting officials during the heat wave to doff their coats and work in their shirt sleeves. The University authorities at Kingston have issued a similar order, but with a reservation. No student can wear exposed suspenders. These are little straws which perhaps show how the wind is blowing, even if only when it is heat-laden. The time for reform in men's dress is long overdue. The case of the sexagenarian who is to test his right to wear shorts may become a cause celebre.

ARGENTINA'S WHEAT

On July 11, Argentina had an exportable wheat surplus of less than 31,000,000 bushels, according to figures published by the Ministry of Agriculture. Since the first of the year the export shipments of wheat from Montreal have only totaled 27,434,000 bushels as compared with 98,940,000 bushels in the corresponding period of last year. The outlook for the new crop is not encouraging as it has suffered from too much moisture as to be unfit for cultivation. It would seem that Argentina will not be a big factor in the world wheat situation and that means prices will continue to rise. Canada will benefit because of her exportable surplus; she will benefit more still to the extent that the drought has not decreased the yield of the forthcoming harvest.

Radio announcers all over the continent are corrupting the pronunciation, and even the spelling of the English language. There is evidently no educational test applied to those who broadcast. Some of the announcers of news on the American side approach the ludicrous in their efforts. Yesterday an announcer spoke of the search for a lost "bonzana."

TRUE GREATNESS

The greatest man is he who chooses right with the most invincible resolution; who resists the sorrest temptation from within and without; who bears the heaviest burdens cheerfully; who is calmest in storms, bravest under menaces and fiercest in his reliance on truth, on virtue, and on God. He is most unfaltering—Seneca.

Envy, if surrounded on all sides by the brightness of another's prosperity, like the scorpion confined within a circle of fire, will sting itself to death.—Colton.

From a War Album

There was an excellent picture in the papers the other day where everybody had gas masks, except the thread, which the housewife was busily cutting. One suspects that family would not have cared for the bread, if there had been to speak words of consolation to the sick and the dying, to listen with attentive ears to those in trouble, to cast compassionate eyes on transgressors, and to walk in the highways and byways, lending helping hands to those who have fallen. "By the way," said the housewife.

DEAN QUAINTON

Sir—Although I have never seen Dean Quainton or heard him speak, it was an unpleasant surprise to learn that he is nearly seventy and contemplating retirement. It is to be hoped that he will long be spared to speak words of consolation to the sick and the dying, to listen with attentive ears to those in trouble, to cast compassionate eyes on transgressors, and to walk in the highways and byways, lending helping hands to those who have fallen. "By the way," said the housewife.

Where Did It Go To?

Recent figures of trade show that Canada exported eighty-nine per cent more goods to the United Kingdom in June this year compared with the same month of 1935. Canada's exports to the United States, however, decreased by $1,275,775 against June last year, and this decrease under reciprocal trade treaties. Why?

Just About Our Style

One morning this week we met two Lancashire lasses shopping for a $40 automobile. We ran into them again in the afternoon and learned they had compromised on a bicycle. Bill, the Broad Street barber, says it is okay to tell a man he is plain and blunt, but don't try it upon a woman. Bank says the depression is definitely over. He has noticed several "snipes" nearly three inches long lying in downtown gutters. It is not so much what a person says that makes trouble, as what somebody says they said. One telegraph operator friend remarks that he has been paid twenty-five cents per pound for steak, but it is much tougher if one pays only ten cents. His boss says the lady who takes it from me usually has nothing to give. A man in the advertising department borrowed an automobile motor from the stereo typist, guaranteed to be in perfect working order. When he arrived at Spout Lake he wore large portions of skin off both hands trying to get the motor to run. He ended up by taking it to pieces and found evidence it had not been touched for years. Arriving at the lake, he camped upon a log, and his wife, who was camping on the island, came to his aid. He said his wife was "there in no water on that island!" Even though the smaller lunch counters in Seattle serve coffee, a Canadian gets tired of the constantly repeated expressions: "What's yours?" "Wattal y'have?" "Take ya order?"—G.B.

Do You Know That—

In the Olympic Games of 1896, W. W. Hoyt, of the United States, won the pole vault with a leap of 10 feet 9 1/2 inches—That mark has been bettered at each succeeding games, excepting 1924, when Lee Barnes and Glenn Graham, of the United States, tied at 12 feet 11 1/2 inches (the same height that won the gold medal in 1904). In 1924, a French vaulter, won the event, the only time a United States entry missed at the Olympic games. In 1928, Percy Williams took the 100 and 200 metre sprints in 1928, and Bobby Kerr won the 200 metre event in 1908. Bill Sherring took the marathon in 1904, and Duke McNaughton carried off high jump honors at Los Angeles—Basketball was part of the 1904 Olympic games. It was not until 1936 that it was included in the program. The 1904 Olympic program was also on the St. Louis programme—Archery was discontinued after 1920 while Rugby football was part of the Games programme at Antwerp in 1920, and again in Paris in 1924. Although the Olympic Games are played every four years, all records in the last series of Olympic games at Athens, Greece, are listed as official—Under strict Olympic rules, no nation is ever officially heralded as the "winner." According to the International Olympic committee, individuals are crowned with laurel wreaths of victory, but nations they represent are passed over—Broad Street barber, who found out a system of point scoring which is still in use at the Games.—J.D.

The "lual number of languages being spoken in the world is 2,796, according to records compiled by the French academy. The Chinese language is spoken by more persons than any other. The total is estimated at 475,000,000 and includes inhabitants speaking dialects.

WORLD YOUTH CONGRESS

Most important and significant World Youth Congress is to be held in Geneva from August 31 to September 8 next. This congress is sponsored by the League of Nations Society and the subjects to be dealt with are economic, political and social problems of the world in their relations to youth. Important also is the desire of youth to promote world brotherhood and universal peace. Youth movements have been active in all parts of the world for many years, but this is the first attempt to take collective action on a world basis.

A Canadian Youth Congress was recently held in Ottawa, where 456 young people representing 330 youth organizations met together to prepare for the forthcoming Geneva congress, as well as to set before the Canadian Government and people the problems of youth and to suggest action for their alleviation. At this congress Victoria was represented by two young men, Bernard Ennals and Ralph Dent, who were the heads of local committees after the historical competition and the examination of their credentials. They acquired themselves very well at the congress and Mr. Ennals having returned immediately to Victoria, gave several interesting reports; while Mr. Dent, who was elected to the continuations committee of the congress, remained for a short time in the East to carry on the work of the committee.

Word was recently received that Mr. Dent has the honor of being appointed as one of the official Canadian delegates to the World Youth Congress at Geneva. He is able to attend, but the matter of expense is a real obstacle. The only hope we have of sending him is that some generous-hearted person, or persons, friendly to youth and its aspirations, and with a vision of the importance of the creation of international understandings and sympathies, will come to his help.

There have been several collections for the youth congress, but they are not enough. It is a question as to whether the sending of a Victoria delegate to Geneva is not more excellent. However, it is blocked there as we do not wish to impose a collection for $350 on the already overburdened public.

The matter is very urgent, as Mr. Dent is a young man, and those responsible for his acceptance of the appointment, and also passage must be booked at once for ocean travel.

We feel strongly that the honor bestowed on Mr. Dent, and the city of Victoria, should be upheld and carried to a successful conclusion. We beg to solicit the generosity of the public to help in this effort.

Please send contributions to the World Youth Congress Committee, care of Y.M.C.A.

ORIENTALS AND FRANCHISE

Sir—With reference to Mr. Mun Hope's letter in your paper of the 17th inst., I will say he will find many corrections in his inconsistent and misleading statements if he will read the Report of 1927, page 17, of the Oriental Activities within the Province, prepared for the Legislative Assembly. Then probably, in the future, he will check things up before making foolish statements through the press.

I understand that if Harold Winch, the dying hero of the last election, had succeeded in securing Victoria their full citizenship, that Mr. Mun Hope would be a potential C.C.F. candidate for the next provincial election. I might also add that this bill almost did slip through. Re-franchise for Orientals, I will refer Mr. Mun Hope and others to the history of the Massey case on the Hawaiian Islands, which conclusively proves it is impossible to give them a vote—or have them serve on juries. It is a notorious fact that it is absolutely useless to prosecute where the juries are of Oriental or mixed races, where whites are concerned. The Hawaiian Islands in 1894 has practically no Oriental population, but in 1934 the Hawaiian mixed population was as follows:

Out of a population of 380,000, only 15,000 are Caucasians, 146,900 Japanese, 22,000 Hawaiians, 28,951 Portuguese, and 26,942 Chinese. In the above the future British Columbia that Mr. Mun Hope and the C.C.F. leaders are looking forward to? Then again, Mr. Mun Hope is not just as proud of being a Canadian as he is of being a Chinese, with all his privileges in China, as a Canadian youth born in China would be of his Canadian privileges in Canada. Naturally the Canadian does not demand constitutional rights in China. Why should Mr. Mun Hope demand constitutional rights here?

Alfred Sze, one of China's greatest statesmen, puts the question very nicely when he says: "Our joint battle is for peace and prosperity under a government for and by our own people. We covet no man's land. We believe in free seas where trade and commerce may pass unhindered. In the Far East we are as devoted to the policy of the 'good neighbor' as you are in the Pan-American world. We, too, ask for a New Deal in concordance with the promise and the pledges of enlightened civilization."

Surely, Mr. Editor, this shows that we must have Dominion and Provincial legislation governing our self-preservation so that we can protect ourselves against the aggressive Oriental birthrate, which shall eventually swallow us up.

Listen to what Professor Pearson, of Australia, probably one of the greatest authorities on this subject, has to say: "The hard facts are there is not enough for both whites and Orientals; that when the enormous outward thrust of colored population-pressure bursts into a white land it cannot let live, but automatically crushes the white man out—first the white laborer, then the white merchant, lastly the white aristocrat, until every vestige of white has gone from that land forever. This inexorable process is thus described: The colored races become agencies of economic disturbance and social degradation. They sap and destroy the upward tendencies of the poorer whites. The latter, instead of always having something better to look at and strive after, have a lower standard of living, health and cleanliness set before them, and the results are disastrous. They sink to the lower level of the Asiatics, and the degrading tendency proceeds upward by saturation, affecting several grades of society. . . . There is an insidious, yet irresistible, process of social degradation. As debased color will drive out good currency, so a lowered standard of living will inexorably spread until its effects are universally felt. It all comes down to a question of self-preservation. And despite what sentimentalists may say, self-preservation is the first law of nature. The whole problem is summed up in this pregnant phrase: 'The Oriental can undermine the White.'"

SOCIAL CONDITIONS

Sir—Mr. McGiverin charges that I have not quoted his former letters fully enough to do him justice. He may be assured if that was so it was not done with any ulterior motive, but because of space, and I feel assured his case did not suffer thereby.

Mr. McGiverin says: "He (Woodley) claims that general social advancement does not paralyze technical progress, and that technical progress is a curse under the present profit making system." That is so, and can easily be proved from technical reports of the displacement of human labor by that of labor-saving machinery in practically every phase of productive effort. The curse is that neither generation, men and women, have the slightest hope for a decent future.

Mr. McGiverin says: "I would ask him (Woodley) to consider that Edison, Marconi and Ford are some of the down-trodden technicians that we read about, and have these men not created employment for thousands upon thousands of people in the world?" I do not know whether or not Edison and Marconi were down-trodden, but I believe they were benefactors to mankind. Ford and his millions are different, and in discussing him we are dealing with a principle. The question may be asked, were his ambitions for the uplift of mankind or for the building of a huge competitive machine and enormous profits? According to evidence of his activities and struggles huge profits were his aim.

Mr. McGiverin gives a list of Victoria's motor licenses, telephones, light installations, electric ranges, gas ranges, and says: "Practically every house in the city is illuminated with electric light, that one person in every five drives a motor car, that one in every five possesses a radio and one in every four a telephone." He says the above "should be sufficient proof that the capitalist system has not distributed the goods of this world so unfairly to the people of Victoria." Just why telephones should be considered other than necessities when they are almost compulsory either to hold a job or get one, and many motor cars come under the same category is beyond reason. They are just about as necessary as water, which the writer seems to have forgotten. Then he speaks of electric lights and cooking ranges. Comparatively, our lighting and cooking appliances are about the same as those born in this generation, as the "yellow dip" and the "open fireplace" to those born in a former one. The truth is that people generally are not able to aim at or think of luxuries and culture but have to manage with the least possible amount and the cheapest of everything. The cheapest amount of food and every other necessity that goes to keep body and soul together. In many houses there is little for the light to light, scarcely anything for the range to cook and few clothes on the bed to say nothing of personal wearing apparel, etc. Mr. McGiverin sees the cluster light, the electric-lined car, the public parks, Victoria's good

Strange Stories of Eskimo-Indian Feud Revived by Robbery

Residents in Point Barrow District Fearful of Tribe Dwelling in Unknown Valley in the Far Interior of Alaska

BARROW, Alaska, July 22 (AP)—Eskimos of the Arctic Coast, imaginations fired by a recent robbery on the tundra, revived strange tales today of a tribe of Indians dwelling in an unknown valley in the far interior.

Mixed with stories of these legendary people were accounts of massacres beneath the northern lights, of men vanishing in the desolate wastes, of robbery and of revenge.

Some of the Eskimos blamed members of the mysterious tribe for the robbery of Charlie Edwards, sixteen, half white, who was collecting rare birds' eggs with Rex Lloyd, twenty-three, quarter white, "twelve days" from Barrow.

Others among the coast dwellers spoke of an old, old feud existing between the Eskimos and Indians from south of the Baird Mountains.

FEAR FOR ESKIMOS
Whites and Eskimos alike felt apprehension for the safety of a few Point Barrow Eskimo families known to be camped near the mountains 300 miles south of Barrow.

Dr. Henry W. Grelat, surgeon at the Presbyterian Hospital, recalled that six years ago two Eskimos left Wainwright with dog teams for a trip to the interior and never were seen again. Eight Eskimos trailed the two to their camp and found tracks convincing them the missing men were victims of an Indian raid and were taken prisoners.

FEUD OF LONG STANDING
The original Eskimo-Indian feud dated back more than 100 years, Dr. Grelat said, and it was kept alive by occasional tragedies and robberies.

"Eighty years ago," Dr. Grelat said, "a war party from the interior, pounced on the Eskimos at Shishmareff on Bering Strait."

The Eskimos were dancing with a big sky light open for ventilation. The Indians killed all but two men who escaped, and then took all the women and babies left and started up a river. The two Eskimos overtook the war party in a few days and found the camp unguarded and the Indians asleep. The Eskimos armed themselves with stone clubs and bashed in the heads of the sleeping Indians one by one. They took the women and children back to Shishmareff."

OLD RESIDENT IS CALLED BY DEATH

George Robert Robson, of 1243 St. Patrick Street, Oak Bay, died at the Royal Jubilee Hospital on Tuesday. He leaves his widow at the family home and youngest daughter, Miss Faith Robson. Also his son Bertram George Robson, at Nanaimo, B.C., and eldest daughter, Mrs. Walter B. Crompton, in Vancouver and five grandchildren.

Mr. Robson had been a resident of Victoria for the past thirty-five years, and prior to that was a manager for the Hudson's Bay Company since 1885 at Fort Simpson, Yale, Nelson and the Kootenay district. He was awarded the Hudson's Bay medal for long and meritorious service upon his retirement.

He joined the Rocky Mountain Rangers for service in the Great War in 1915 and was with them for some time until he was transferred to the ordnance department at Shishmareff, Yukon, and then to the end of the war.

He will be remembered with affection by many old-timers in the Upper Country and in Victoria, also by his old Hudson's Bay contemporaries.

The funeral, which will be private, will be held from the B.C. Funeral Chapel at 3:30 this afternoon. Rev. Robert Connell will conduct the service.

LIBRARY TO OPEN AT END OF THE MONTH

CHEMAMUS, July 22 (AP)—The executive of Chemamus Library met on Monday evening and final arrangements were made for the opening of the service here. On Friday, July 31, the library will be open in the afternoon from 3 to 5:30 o'clock and in the evening from 7 to 9:30 o'clock. Library cards may be had on application and books chosen on opening day during above hours. The regular opening will be Mondays and Thursdays, 3:30 to 5 p.m., and Tuesdays and Fridays, 7 to 9:30 p.m. The staff will be giving voluntary service.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH IS JURY'S VERDICT

NANAIMO, July 22 (AP)—A coroner's jury inquiring into the death of James Roberts, Nanaimo district farmer, who was fatally injured on Sunday while hoisting hay into his barn, today had returned a verdict of accidental death with no blame attached to anyone.

Roberts' neck was broken by a heavy block which struck him under the chin when a rope snapped.

FIND TRACES OF DISASTER

Coast Guardsmen Pick Up Piece of Charred Ship Timber

TAMPA, Fla., July 22 (AP)—Hope of finding alive the twenty-two persons aboard the British M.S. Nunoca faded today at the discovery of traces of a ship's cargo nearly 100 miles from the missing vessel's course.

Coast guardsmen found a charred piece of timber fastened to an oil drum, which they said strengthened the belief that the Nunoca was shattered by an explosion.

The ship has not been heard from since she set out July 4, from Grand Cayman Island, for Tampa, under command of Captain Moses L. Kirk.

Captain Cecil M. Gabbet, divisional coast guard commander directing an extensive hunt for the 110-foot craft, said he was informed by the American consul at Georgetown, Grand Cayman, the Nunoca loaded sixty Texas oil containers in its hold before leaving. The drum picked up was marked "Texas Company."

Provisions for only about six days and water for not more than eleven days were carried by the Nunoca, which usually made the voyage from Georgetown to Tampa in five days at the most.

United States Government to File
Claims Totalling $600,000 for Income Taxes

CHICAGO, July 22 (AP)—The millions the late Arthur W. Cutten, native of Quebec, Ont., was credited with making on grain and security exchanges, were disclosed as having dwindled to approximately $350,000 when his will was filed for probate today.

The will, one page in length, left the entire estate to the late Cutten's widow, Mrs. Maude Boomer Cutten.

District Attorney Isaac announced the United States Government would file claims aggregating more than $600,000 against the estate for income taxes alleged to be due for 1929, 1930 and 1931.

Lord Chancellor Ordered to Take
Complete Holiday From Duties
—Condition Not Serious

LONDON, July 22 (AP)—Viscount Hailsham, Lord Chancellor, was ordered by doctors today to take a complete holiday from state duties. His condition is not regarded as serious, but he will see no one at present.

The Lord Chancellor, who is sixty-four, has been ailing since a combination of "Dickens" immortal Mr. Pickwick and Winston Churchill, born Douglas MacArthur Hogg, he had had a romantic and successful career.

Successful at Eton, he went sugar-growing in the West Indies. Altogether, he devoted eight years to commercial life. He was a volunteer in the South African War. Called to the bar at thirty, he quickly acquired a practice second only to that of Sir John Simon, Home Secretary.

Lord Hailsham was named Lord Chancellor last year, succeeding Viscount Sankey. He also was Lord Chancellor in 1928-29. He was a delegate to the Ottawa Economic Conference of 1932.

BRUSSELS PEAK ASSAULT FAILS

Three Mountaineers Unable to Climb Sheer Rock of Peak Near Jasper

JASPER, Alta., July 22 (AP)—Three members of the Alpine Club today were back at the club's camp at Fryatt Creek after an unsuccessful attempt to scale Brussels Mountain. This was the third vain attempt to scale the 10,370-foot peak in recent years.

Badly grilled by the strong sun on the rock, the three had spent hours on a ledge about 9,000 feet up trying to find some means of ascent to sheer overhanging rock.

"We found it was no longer a sporting proposition, merely danger," Dr. S. B. Hendricks, of the Smithsonian Institute and one of the three, told campers later. Dr. Max Strumia, of Bryn Mawr Hospital, leader of the party, said he would not make another attempt to climb Brussels again this season.

Other alpinists watch the climb was the main interest in the camp all day. One party ascended Mount Christie to watch the Brussels attempt. Another climbed to the alpine meadows on the rock shelf, about 1,000 feet up at the foot of the mountain itself, while those remaining in the camp kept glasses trained on the sides of the great peak for hours.

A group of the Alpine Club climbers who are now in a branch camp several miles above the main camp are attempting to ascend the recently-named and as yet unclimbed "Mount Olympus" (about 9,800 feet) within the next few days.

CHILDREN OPEN THEIR OWN BANK

Nova Scotia Kiddies Form Co-operative Association at Prospect—Balance Own Books

PROSPECT, N.S. (AP)—Children of this and surrounding coastal villages have formed their own bank and are doing a co-operative business in a big way. "Children's Co-operative Saving Association," they call it. They line up in front of their own teller, balance their own books and declare their own interest once a year.

The idea is to teach youngsters the rudiments of banking and encourage saving. The new bank threw open its doors on June 26, when fifty-seven depositors plunked down sums ranging from five cents to $3.30. Toy banks were turned upside down and their merry jingle rung up in the ledgers of the Children's Co-operative Association.

Learning terms. Amazingly fast, the young people are learning banking terms and the worth of money, and for the first time they are realizing the value of arithmetic.

The regulations of the association are:
1. Any boy or girl under twenty-one years of age may become a member of the association.
2. Any amount, no matter how small, may be deposited and the current rate of interest on savings accounts will be paid on same.
3. Interest and dividends will be paid annually.
4. Money deposited must remain in the bank until depositor has attained his or her twenty-first year.
5. Death or removal from the district shall be an exception to the above regulation.

City and District

Lands Committee—Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the City Council lands committee, has called a meeting for 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Cemetery Board—Five Vancouver Island citizens were named as a cemetery board in Sayward district this week by Provincial order. They are D. Davies, F. J. Harris, A. Henry, H. O. Sacht and A. H. Vose.

Issue—Summonses—Summonses for fifty-one Victoria businessmen and firms, for failure to pay licence fees for the first half of the year, will be served by police within a few days, authorities disclosed yesterday. L. E. Gower, city licence collector, swore out information against the firms yesterday.

Examination Results—High school entrance examination results may be announced by the British Columbia Department of Education within the next two days, with matriculation and normal entrance results of the department said yesterday. Examiners are busy now completing the compilation of results.

Leave of Absence—Norman A. Watt, registrar of voters at Prince Rupert, has been given leave of absence by the Provincial Government until September 5, orders-in-council recited this week. Arthur J. Lancaster, collector, will act as registrar in his absence. Mr. Watt went to Vimy. Another order named James D. Laurie a provincial elections commissioner in Victoria.

License Reinstated—The Government ordered reinstatement of a special timber licence for the Royal Trust Company this week, on payment of fees and charges outstanding at $361. Several municipal by-laws were approved, including one to increase water rates on large consumers at Trail. Certain trail ends at North Vancouver were deemed over to the Vancouver Harbour Commission.

Break Flower—A triplet "Black-Eyed Susan," grown by Mr. Patterson, Murchison's cabin, Johnson Street, is now on view in The Colonist window. The flower has yellow petals and a brown center. The three flowers growing from the end of the stalk are not joined but are connected individually to the stem.

Postpones Sale—Sheriff Goggin refused to accept the only bid made for the realty of the Pioneer Sand & Gravel Company yesterday morning. He announced that the price was not one that he felt he should accept and would refer the matter back to the court again for further instructions as to what should be done with it. P. J. Shinnott, for a client, made the only offer.

Will Open Tenders—Hon. F. M. MacPherson will open tenders at noon today on approximately $300,000 worth of Government paving, bids for which were called from private contractors on Saturday last. On Vancouver Island there appear in the specifications $7 million at the Malahat and 1.5 miles at Jordan River.

Youth Is Drowned—Provincial Police were advised from Terrace last yesterday that Lloyd Thomas, nineteen-year-old Terrace youth, had met death by drowning in a low boat at Braemar Island on Tuesday evening. The body was recovered at midnight, after failure of the youth to reappear. No details were available here.

Man Injured—Arthur Bell, 1550 Quadra Street, was taken to Jubilee Hospital at 4:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon suffering from head injuries sustained when his motorcycle collided with a truck driven by Lee Fook, 1717 Quadra Street, near the corner of Quadra and North Park Streets. Constables Larry Greenwood and E. G. Sturrock attended the accident. Dr. R. J. Nodwell is attending Mr. Bell.

Prepare for Meeting—Premier Pattullo returned to the city briefly yesterday, and joined other members of the cabinet preparing for a meeting of the central executive of the Provincial Liberal Association at Vancouver on Friday. Election of a provincial president and association officers, and appointment of a provincial organizer will go before the meeting. Rumors of a possible cabinet reorganization are discounted here in circles usually well informed.

Gold Purchase Plan—Up to March last, the Provincial Government had bought $8,537 worth of gold in small lots over the counter from prospectors distributed throughout British Columbia. Special scales were ordered from Germany last year to carry out the plan, designed to aid small independent placer miners in disposal of their takings without delay in transmission of gold to the mint. The Government paid $28 an ounce.

Concluded Case—Robert Ashton, charged with driving to the common danger when a collision occurred at the corner of Government and Belleville Streets, some time ago, resulting in rather serious injuries to

WORKMEN FIND ANCIENT SHIP

Gun-Equipped Hulk Seen at Low Tide Arouses Much Speculation

TABUSINTAC, N.B., July 22 (AP)—Suggesting colorful adventure in days long past, the mysterious hulk of an aged warship or pirate craft was revealed on the beach here for a brief period and then reclaimed by Gulf of St. Lawrence waters.

The sea-soaked wreck, estimated to be more than 300 years old, arose like a ghost when the tide sank to its lowest level of the year in this district. At least another year is expected to elapse before the hulk will be visible again. Its existence was previously unknown even to the older residents of this village.

F. Arsenau, foreman of a lobster factory here, and other workmen discovered the long-hidden ship while they were walking along the Tabusintac beach.

BURIED IN SAND The bow was deeply buried in sand with the stern resting in water. Unusual tidal activity and consequent shifting of sand was believed responsible for emergence of the craft. Parts of it were covered by sediment some eight inches thick.

An ancient cannon, six feet long and weighing about 1,200 pounds, was removed from the ship. The old muzzle-loader, sticking from a porthole, was blocked at the end by a piece of cork, found in excellent condition.

Many years ago, village "ancients" claim, Tabusintac beach was a harbor about a mile wide, but, in course of time, sand was shifted to such a great extent it filled the inlet.

Actor Is Robbed While Swimming

REVELSTOCK, B.C., July 22 (AP)—Police today were searching for a thief who yesterday stole $50, a gold penknife and other articles from Richard Arlen's clothes as he and other stars of British Columbia's "Great Barrier" were swimming at Williamson Lake, near here.

★ and now— 2c Electricity! ANNOUNCING A NEW LOW DOMESTIC RATE FOR ELECTRICITY

IN RECENT years the price of practically everything that enters into the make-up of the family budget has shown a tendency to increase.

THERE is, however, one notable exception—the cost of electric service in the home.

WITHOUT exception, every revision in the rates at which electric current is sold for domestic purposes in Victoria and district has been a decrease.

IN LINE with the persistent policy of this company to reduce the cost of the various services it is privileged to supply, it now has pleasure in announcing to become effective on all meter readings made on and after August 1, 1936, and which rate will be available to all domestic users as under:

A NEW LOW RATE

Rate (On Monthly Consumption)	Greater Victoria	Suburban
PRIMARY RATE	6c	8c
SECONDARY RATE	2c	2c
MINIMUM	As Before	As Before

All energy to be registered on one meter per dwelling.

Society Busy in London With Plans for Season

His Majesty the King Holds Second Garden Reception—Ceremony Cut Short by Rain—Debutantes Have Interesting Programme

LONDON, July 22 (AP)—The London social season moved to a close tonight with the second garden reception of debutantes by the King. Seated under a silken canopy in the grounds of Buckingham Palace, His Majesty received a second group of smartly-gowned women. Presentation ceremonies yesterday were cut short by rain after half of the 400 waiting guests had been announced by the Lord Chamberlain. Among those received yesterday were eleven Canadians.

GOODWOOD AND COWES
Many debutantes will visit the fashionable Goodwood race meeting starting next Tuesday on the Sussex course of the Duke of Richmond and Gordon. After that, society is to centre its activities on the Isle of Wight for Cowes week, opening August 3.

Queen Alexandra Review
The monthly social meeting of Queen Alexandra Review No. 1, W.B.A., was held on Monday evening in the Foresters' Hall, Cornmarket Street. Final arrangements were made for the picnic to be held on Wednesday, July 29, at the Willows Beach, starting at 2:30 o'clock. It will take the form of an old-fashioned basket picnic with supper being served between 5:30 and 6 o'clock. Tea, sugar, etc., will be supplied. Numerous races will be run and games will be played during the afternoon, concluding with a baseball game. Mrs. L. Schmeis will act as convener with several members as a committee. After the short business period a social time was spent, with a sing-song as the main feature. Several old-time members were present and they were given a most cordial welcome. Refreshments

Another Shakespeare play has caused Hollywood to spend lavishly. This time Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard (one a Canadian, the other English) are stars in "Romeo and Juliet." The two are shown above in the famous balcony scene.

Miss Lulu Bond Bride Of Mr. Peris Atkinson

A pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill, Rev. S. Ryall officiating. When in the presence of a large congregation of friends, Lulu May, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bond, Palmer Road, Lake Hill, became the bride of Mr. Peris Atkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Atkinson, Davin Avenue. The church was beautifully decorated with summer flowers by friends of the bride and groom. The ceremony was held at 7 o'clock. The bride wore a white gown with a long train and a full skirt. The groom wore a dark suit. The wedding cake was a three-tiered affair, decorated with white frosting and flowers. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

PRETTY BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride made a charming picture in her wedding gown of white satin, the skirt being long and full, and the bodice finished with a lace yoke and roll of satin at the neckline. Full puff sleeves at the shoulder line continued in satin to the wrists, and the bride veil, worn with a pleated trim at the back of her head, was held with a cluster of orange blossoms, the whole veil falling softly in a train over the wedding gown. Her bouquet was of pale pink roses and carnations.

The bridesmaids were Miss Iona Bond, sister of the bride, and Miss Phyllis Deschamps, wearing similarly fashioned frocks of blue and white. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of white and blue flowers. The wedding party was accompanied by a band of music. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a large number of guests were present. The bride and groom were the center of attention, and the evening was a most successful one.

Bridge Party Is Feature of Garden Fete

The bridge party held yesterday afternoon in connection with the League of Nations Society's garden party at the home of Mrs. J. W. Beuning, 1337 Rockland Avenue, was a highly successful detail of the event.

Convened by Mrs. T. A. Johnston, fifteen tables were in play, and at the close of the afternoon the following were announced as winners: 1. Mrs. H. A. Humber; 2. Mrs. Harry Beach; 3. Mrs. A. Gonnason; 4. Mrs. J. B. Munro; 5. Mrs. McPeck; and 6. Mrs. Marshall.

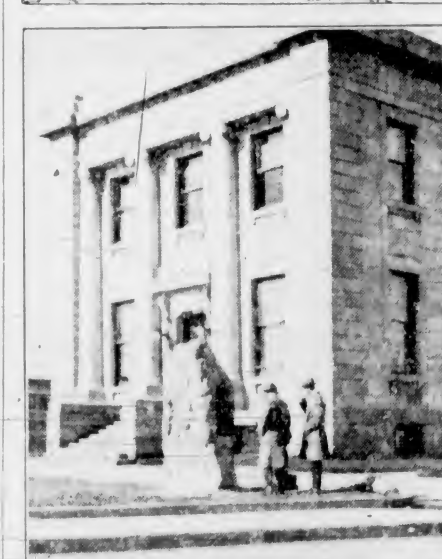

Tea was served on the veranda, in the shade of an awning, at a charmingly appointed buffet, at which Mrs. P. M. McPherson and Mrs. H. H. Hodges presided. The following assisting as servers: Mrs. Carl D. Pfender, Mrs. D. B. Darnell and the Misses Loula Cameron, Thelma Ackerman, Edith Adams and Kathleen Johnston. Great bowls of godetia, larkspur, stocks and delphinium were effectively placed about the drawing-room, music-room, dining-room and hall, where the bridge tables were set. Prizes for the bridge had been kindly donated by Miss K. Agnew, Mrs. Gordon Sloan, Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mrs. P. E. Taylor and Mrs. J. O. Cameron.

The players included Mrs. A. E. McKicking, Mrs. T. R. Cusack, Miss J. Pigot, Mrs. Chandler, Mrs. L. A. Grogan, Mrs. F. N. Cabell, Mrs. Thornton Marshall, Mrs. E. Davis, Mrs. J. R. ## STORIED SPOTS FROM SEA TO SEA

SITE OF THE ANCIENT FORT, THREE RIVERS

OLDER than Montreal, Three Rivers is situated only by Quebec among the important settlements of Canada. These three were the main centers of the French empire in North America. In 1666 the population of Three Rivers totalled 500. It was important enough to have a governor of its own throughout the French regime and for a time the British continued the practice on several occasions the official who served in this vital frontier post later received promotion to Montreal or even to the vice-regal residence at Quebec.

Where the St. Lawrence empties into the Gulf through three mouths was a meeting place for the tribes from the earliest times. Here warriors joined Champlain as he traveled into the unknown secrets of the West in 1610. During the last years of his life the

Bishop Remington Opens League of Nations Fete

Varied Programme and Amusements Arranged For Entertainment of Big Crowd at Garden Party at Home of Mrs. Benning

"The principles of the League of Nations are right. Public sympathy, perhaps, has a tendency to swing away from it at the present time, but when people begin to lose faith in things that are right, then is the time to give them strong support," said Bishop Remington, of Eastern Oregon, in the address he made when formally opening the League of Nations Society's garden party yesterday afternoon at the beautiful home of Mrs. J. W. Benning, Jr., 1337 Rockland Avenue. Most encouraging public support was given the affair, which was characterized by a well organized and varied programme of amusements. The programme of the garden party was introduced by Dean Quinlan, who pointed out the appropriate international character given to the fete by the bishop's connection with the United States.

Mrs. Stanley Holmes and Mrs. Charles Watson had charge of a popular bowling alley, the Misses Peggy Macdonald and Betty Porter, Miss Monica Robbins, "diving for pennies"; Mrs. Saxton-White, clock golf; Misses Ena Addison and Duille Hamlet, "five-and-ten-cent store." The Kismet game, a profitable "chuck-a-luck" game, in charge of Archie Smith, Herbert Sabiston, Alfred Ford and Edwin Sanders. Mrs. J. G. Hazelwood had charge of bagatelle.

Winners of the clock golf were as follows: Ladies, Mrs. Mackenzie-Grieve; men, Bishop Remington and J. Hazelwood. On the wide terrace immediately south of the house, pleasantly shaded by oaks, tea was served, under the supervision of Mrs. J. W. Gibson acting for the Local Council of Women, who took charge of the programme.

The programme of music and dancing, convened by Mrs. S. J. Willis, was unusually pleasing, children from the Florence Clough School and the Russian School giving a succession of enchanting dances, in pretty costume, on the lower terrace, and Heber Naamth, of Pullman College, Washington, delighting everyone with his magnificent singing of "Care-Share" and "The Pilgrim." Mrs. Naamth played the accompaniment.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

VICTORIA

The fifteenth anniversary of the Victoria Women's Institute was celebrated yesterday by a picnic at the Summer home of Mrs. Nelson Brown, Prospect Lake. About fifty members gathered heavily into the various games and water sports. A handsome birthday cake, made and decorated by Mrs. Brown, made an attractive centerpiece for the long table. Mrs. W. Peden, as one of the first members of the institute, had the honor of cutting the cake. Mrs. S. Hariss and Mrs. K. Hole assisted in receiving and entertaining the guests.

A Chubby Malahat Child

This baby boy is Ernest Paul Whitehouse, six-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. C. Whitehouse, of the Malahat, and grandson of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Whitehouse, Mount Newton, and of Mr. and Mrs. W. Grey, of Shawnigan Lake.

CIVIL WAR BEING FOUGHT SAVAGELY

drive marauding fascists from the streets.

Private reports to Paris asserted Government troops and rebels clashed in two towns within fifty miles of the capital. The battles were reported to have occurred at Villalba and San Martin de Valde Iglesias.

In Paris, the French Socialist organ owned by Premier Leon Blum extended sympathy to the Loyalist Spanish Government. The French Government, the newspaper Le Populaire said, is "entirely in fellowship with Spain's anti-fascist Government."

REBEL CLAIMS
LISBON, July 22 (C)—A rebel broadcast picked up here tonight, stated a proclamation issued by General Emilio Mola, declared there no longer is a Government in Madrid, but merely a series of anti-revolutionary committees striving desperately to organize a defence of Madrid, Barcelona and Valencia.

General Mola, insurrectionist organ owned by Premier Leon Blum, completely destroyed in heavy fighting were officially denied here. Public buildings there were damaged, however. The civil governor of the city, imprisoned by rebels, was freed when the city was recaptured, it was stated.

Delegates from all trade union organizations took over supervision of the public services in Madrid. Functionaries like the Soviet, which organized the defence of Petrograd in 1917, the committee took over the railways, summarily dismissing the manager, sub-managers and division chiefs of the line to the north.

Both sides claimed sweeping victories.

TODAY'S RECIPE

STRAWBERRY Bavarian Cream—2 tablespoons gelatine, 1-4 cup cold water, 1-2 cup canned pineapple juice, 1-2 cups crushed fresh strawberries, 1-2 cup sugar, 1 cup whipping cream. Method: Soak gelatine in cold water, dissolve over hot water. Add pineapple juice, sweetened berries and rice. Chill, stirring occasionally. When starts to thicken, fold in whipped cream. Turn into wet mold to set. May be served with crushed sweetened berry sauce.

leader in Spain proper, declared three colored columns were approaching Madrid and another band of soldiers was marching on Barcelona. He had previously been rumored as killed in action.

The radio station at Cordoba, reported Ojeda, on the northern frontier, surrendered after suffering a bombardment from three revolutionary planes.

Badajoz, one mile from the Portuguese frontier, was reported captured by rebels after being greatly damaged by retreating loyalists. Refugees who had fled to Portugal returned home, it was said.

DEFENDING CAPITAL
MADRID, July 22 (CP-Havas)—The Spanish Government, fighting desperately on all fronts to prevent rebel troops from reaching this capital, announced tonight loyal forces had recaptured La Lina near Gibraltar and had ousted all insurgents from the vicinity of Madrid.

General Francisco Franco, leader of the revolt, announced in a broadcast from Ceuta, Spanish Morocco, that the fall of Madrid was imminent. He urged all civil guards to join the fascist-monarchist insurgents in the attempt to "liberate Spain."

A serious shortage of gasoline in the capital was revealed tonight when the newly-organized trade union committees practically commandeered the entire motor fuel supply for use of the fighting forces.

BOMBING DENIED
Four planes which took off from Barcelona returned tonight after dropping seventy bombs on the rebel barracks in Zaragoza.

The Seville radio station, in the hands of the rebels, denied late tonight Zaragoza had been bombed. It also claimed all other reports broadcast from Madrid and Barcelona were false. In all the regions occupied by the insurgents, complete calm reigned, the rebels stated.

Every road into Madrid was closely guarded tonight. The tactics of a group of fascists, dressed in uniform of the Spanish fleet, who attacked loyal troops from small trucks led to this emergency measure.

Rumors Guadalupe had been completely destroyed in heavy fighting were officially denied here. Public buildings there were damaged, however. The civil governor of the city, imprisoned by rebels, was freed when the city was recaptured, it was stated.

Delegates from all trade union organizations took over supervision of the public services in Madrid. Functionaries like the Soviet, which organized the defence of Petrograd in 1917, the committee took over the railways, summarily dismissing the manager, sub-managers and division chiefs of the line to the north.

tories. The Seville radio station, held by the rebels, announced insurgent airplanes had sunk three Loyalist warships engaged in bombarding Cadiz, rebel centre on the south coast.

NORTHERN AREA
(Copyright, 1936, by The Associated Press)
WITH REBEL HEADQUARTERS IN NORTHERN SPAIN, NEAR VERA, July 22 (AP)—Widespread fighting, with scores of dead and wounded, was reported tonight to leaders of the northern wing of Spain's rebel army.

Both the military insurgents and defending Loyalists claimed a victory near San Sebastian, but an all-day fight over the northern resort town still held the conflicting forces locked in battle.

The revolutionary leaders announced their troops were driving steadily through the northern provinces.

Colonel Villanueva, rebel commander of this sector, asserted the anti-Government forces held Vigo, Corunna and Orense, as well as all territory eastward toward the semi-autonomous state of Catalonia.

He said he lacked reports from Bilbao and Oviedo, but they were also rumored to have fallen into the hands of rebels.

REPORTED SLAIN
The main column of the northern army, commanded by General Emilio Mola, was reported slowly approaching Madrid, in the Burgos region, but other unconfirmed reports to headquarters said the commander had been slain in an encounter with Loyalists.

General Mola's army was described as a picturesque horde of Loyalist volunteers wearing berets, fascists with red and black armbands, together with numbers of military insurrectionists.

To frontier posts came reports the rebels were marching southward skirmishing with advance guards of hastily-mobilized Loyalist militiamen dispatched from Madrid.

Some Loyalists captured by the insurgents were lined up against village walls and shot.

Colonel Villanueva claimed all territory northward toward Portugal to Santander for his forces, with the exception of Irún and Behobia, which are Government strongholds.

ADVANCE GUARD IS GREETED AT MONS

rang, bands played, people cheered. I felt very lonely standing there midway between peace and war. For us when the end came there was no cheering—only silence. It was a silence so stunning that it has impressed itself upon us forever, and we perpetuate the silence as our tribute to our fallen comrades."

The Canadians were now returning. Time had taken its toll, and many who marched through Mons had gone to join the unseen army of the dead.

"WE DO NOT FORGET"
"We are a fading army, but we do not forget. Age may weaken the body, but the memory of those other days remains. And it is memory that brings us back. We have not forgotten our comrades who await the last trumpet-call in your land, nor the patients in which we fought or those patient, long-suffering people, overwhelmed by an irresistible enemy force, who never faltered, who never lost hope, who were never broken."

The committee, with Dr. Hugh Clarke as chairman, includes C. O'Brien, president; J. R. B. Graham, H. R. McDonald, junior past-president; Angus Chilton, past-president; C. Lester, vice-president; P. Babcock and W. Cox, A. Pynn and George Porter are in charge of the refreshments.

Eagles to Hold Picnic on Sunday
Local Eagles will hold their annual picnic on Sunday, at Beaver Lake. It was decided at the regular meeting last evening in the Eagles' Hall. Buses will leave from the hall, View Street, at 10 o'clock in the morning, and ample accommodation is promised all planning to use this means of transportation.

Hot water, milk and sugar will be provided at the picnic grounds. Dr. Hugh Clarke, past president, has arranged an interesting programme of sports. President J. R. B. Graham appealed to the members to attend, if possible, and make the event an outstanding success.

BANK HOLDUP IS FRUSTRATED

Spectacular Scene in Picture Production Enacted on Victoria Street

A daring bank robbery was attempted at noon yesterday at the corner of Yates and Blanshard Streets. The attempt was made with the sirens crowded with clients, many of whom failed to realize what was taking place before them.

It was not a real robbery, of course, because there is no bank at that location. In addition there were "lacking" the "bad men" but the police were on hand in numbers to see that those attempting robbery had the facilities to be duly "shot" for the movies. It was the opening scene taking place in the film under the charge of Kenneth Bishop in the new production, "Why Let 'em Live."

Even the employees of the Victoria Public Library were unaware of the desperate attempt being made to save the place from invasion, with Lyle Talbot, of Hollywood, who is the hero of the play, and who was resident in the full uniform of a Provincial Police sergeant arriving on the scene (by his double), making use of a motorcycle.

Mr. Bishop is enthusiastic over the way in which the sixteen-day schedule for the actual shooting of the scenes has started off on the latest picture under production for the Columbia Company under the British quota. He says something like 100 people are to play parts in the production, and of these, only nineteen are from the outside. In the play the Provincial Police appear in an enviable light, and in this connection the full co-operation of the Attorney-General of the province and Col. J. H. McMillen, commissioner of the Provincial Police, is being given Mr. Bishop.

AUSTRIA EXTENDS GENERAL AMNESTY

Ten Thousand Political Prisoners Are Given Freedom to Celebrate

VIENNA, July 22 (CP-Havas).—A general amnesty affecting 10,000 political prisoners throughout Austria was proclaimed by Federal President Wilhelm Miklas tonight.

This decree was the first major step taken as a result of the recently signed Austro-German agreement. Another amnesty for political delinquents who come under the jurisdiction of police and administrative courts will be issued later this month.

Only about 200 political prisoners failed to benefit from the amnesty decreed tonight. Among these was Dr. Anton Rintelen, former minister to Rome, who was sentenced to life imprisonment for his part in the abortive Nazi Putsch during which Chancellor Dollfus was assassinated in 1934.

The total of 10,000 included those free on bail or awaiting trial.

Branch to Hold Smoking Concert

A smoking concert in commemoration of the taking of Vimy Ridge will be held by the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., in their clubrooms, View Street, on Saturday evening.

The following interesting programme has been arranged: Selections, Britannia Branch Band (Musical Director C. A. Raine); baritone songs, Arthur Jackman; humorous duet, Harry Hutchinson and Jack Pullen; whistling solo, Len Foster; comic songs, Tom Obee; violin solo, Jack Pullen; brass quartette, Britannia Branch Band; cornet solo, by member of Britannia Branch Band; the horse act, Harry Hutchinson, Jack Pullen and A. N. Othe.

Several other artists will contribute to the evening's entertainment. Mr. Hughes will be accompanied for the community singing.

BRITISH COLUMBIANS GIVEN APPOINTMENTS

EDMONTON, July 22 (CP).—Nineteen appointments to the staff of the University of Alberta were announced here today by the Board of Governors. The presidency being vacated by Dr. R. C. Wallace, principal-elect of Queen's University, Kingston, will be filled by an appointee of the Provincial Government.

The appointments included Agnes J. McLeod, of Vancouver, to the directorship of a course of nursing as from July 1, 1937, and J. Van Wilby, of Nanaimo, to be zoology assistant.

Quebec Premier Speaks

A new figure arises out of the confusion of the Quebec political scene in Premier Adélard Godbout, who succeeded Hon. L. A. Taschereau when the latter was forced to resign. Formerly Minister of Agriculture, Premier Godbout is making a strong appeal for farmer and working class votes in the elections to be held next month. He is seen here in action, addressing a gathering of 25,000 at St. Hyacinthe, Que.

SAYS NATIONAL SPIRIT NEEDED

Hon. J. E. Michaud Says
Secession Talk Acts as Exhaust Pipe

VANCOUVER, July 22 (C)—Talk of secession of parts of the Dominion today was described as "apasmotic expressions, quite natural, acting as an exhaust pipe and a good way occasionally of expressing dissatisfaction," by Hon. J. E. Michaud, Federal Minister of Fisheries.

"There is no good reason for any parceling out of our country," the minister said in an address before a service club here. "What we lack in Canada is a common national spirit, possibly owing to geographic distances and sparsely-settled population. But we are all of the same temperament, aspirations and ideals, and I think have broad views."

Hon. Mr. Michaud said the present government was giving an example to the world that economic nationalism is no good for Canada or any other country.

CONCERNED WITH SELLING
"We want to trade with all the world, and the Prime Minister keeps that thought before his Cabinet," he said. "We have an example of this policy in the recent trade agreement with the United States, which has already resulted in increased trade for Canada. We are not fearful of what amount of goods we may have to purchase, but we are concerned with the amount of goods we can sell. I hope this policy will be adopted by all countries of the world."

"The moral effect of the United States-Canada agreement is more than we expected and has had more effect abroad than any Canadian is willing to admit, unless it has been in Europe in recent months."

SEEKING MARKETS
Referring to the fisheries minister said that the Government is endeavoring to convince Great Britain and the rest of the Empire to give Canada more favorable treatment in their markets.

"We expect to get that and thus offset the loss suffered in foreign markets," he said.

Hon. Mr. Michaud and his party arrived here yesterday from the East and left tonight on the hydrographic survey ship W. J. Stewart for a tour of British Columbia's fishing grounds.

PARENTS PROMISE TO "TAKE CARE" OF BOYS

VANCOUVER, July 22 (C)—The love of two small boys for ice cream led them into police hands today. Receiving reports of begging, police discovered the boys in an ice cream parlor spending money they had solicited with sotted cans on the street, supposedly for aid of a fresh air camp.

The youngsters were turned over to their parents who promised to "take care" of them.

BUGGY BROUGHT UP TO DATE
ST. THOMAS, Ont., July 21 (C)—Even the horse and buggy is being brought up to date. A local farmer drove into town yesterday with a dingo installed under the seat of his buggy.

Runaway Mite Becomes Lost
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Mite, the littlest and smartest and most headstrong of the four children of Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse, had run away. Yes, sir, he had run away from home. For some time he had planned to do it, and now he actually had done it. It wasn't because he was unhappy at home. It wasn't because he wasn't loved by his father and mother and brother and sisters. The fact is, he was so small and cute and smart that he was very much loved by all of them. The reason he had run away was simply because he wanted to see the Great World, and he believed himself so smart that he could do it without getting into danger. You see, he had a very good opinion of himself, had little Mite, such a good opinion of himself, that he thought he knew more than Danny Meadow Mouse and used to turn his head to hide a smile when Danny would tell how dangerous it would be for one of the children to go so far from home. For some time he had planned to do it, and now he actually had done it. It wasn't because he was unhappy at home. It wasn't because he wasn't loved by his father and mother and brother and sisters. The fact is, he was so small and cute and smart that he was very much loved by all of them. The reason he had run away was simply because he wanted to see the Great World, and he believed himself so smart that he could do it without getting into danger. You see, he had a very good opinion of himself, had little Mite, such a good opinion of himself, that he thought he knew more than Danny Meadow Mouse and used to turn his head to hide a smile when Danny would tell how dangerous it would be for one of the children to go so far from home.

"I don't believe it is dangerous at all," said Mite. "I guess I'm smart enough to keep out of danger, anyway. And if I should find trouble all I've got to do is to turn around and scamper home again."

So he watched his chance, and when no one was looking he had slipped out along one of Danny's private little paths. He scampered along it as fast as ever he could, fearing he would be seen and called back. He took the first path that branched off and followed this until this branched, and here he turned off again. By this time he was quite sure that no one had seen him, and so, of course, that no one was following him, and he began to enjoy his freedom. It was very delightful and cool down there, with walls of grass stems on either side, and with green roof where the grasses met above the little path and through which the merry little sunbeams crept here and there.

Every few minutes Mite stopped to sample tender, young, juicy grasses, and once, to his great delight, he found a strawberry. Later he caught sight of a fat cricket just disappearing around a turn in the path, and with a little squeak of excitement he started after it. But when he got around the little turn in the path the cricket was nowhere to be seen. Mite hunted until he was tired. Then he sat down to rest.

Companions Are Reunited

Dr. D. E. Robertson was the first man on hand to welcome Alfred Scadding on the latter's arrival at Toronto from Halifax, where he has been ever since the Moor River mine disaster. Scadding and Robertson were imprisoned in the mine for ten days before being rescued, and as a result of the privations suffered underground, Scadding lost all his toes. On her father's lap is Baby Joanne Scadding, obviously glad to have her daddy back home again.

TENSE DRAMA IS ON PLAZA SCREEN

"Splendor" With Miriam Hopkins and Joel McCrea. Is Story Of Society

What happens when a spirited Southern beauty marries into one of New York's "first families" and is ruthlessly sacrificed in the battle to preserve their crumbling grandeur is depicted in dramatic fashion in "Splendor," the new Samuel Goldwyn film which brings Miriam Hopkins to the Plaza Theatre today. Joel McCrea, last seen with her in "Barbary Coast," again appears opposite the star in this Rachel Crothers story.

All that remains of the once-great House of Lorraine is its Fifth Avenue mansion, dominated by the imperious and embittered old Mrs. Lorraine, whose schemes to recoup the family fortune by marrying her son Brighton, to an heiress are shattered when he brings home his pretty but penniless Southern bride, Phyllis Manning.

The story reaches a gripping climax when the sedate and staid dowager persuades the girl into an affair with a wealthy and influential man and wrecks her marriage. But love comes to the rescue and brings

"I wish I had stayed at home," he sobbed

"I guess," thought he, "it is about time I started back home." Right then and there he received the first of many frights which were to be his before he should again see the dear old home under the pile of old cornstalks in the edge of Farmer Brown's cornfield. Yes, sir, he received a fright, a very great fright. He didn't know where home was! He, Mite Meadow Mouse, who was so smart and clever, had lost himself—the very first thing he had done alone so many paths that he couldn't remember which was which.

Right away little Mite did the very thing most people do when they find that they are lost—he began to run. Yes, sir, Mite began to run as hard as ever he could. He didn't feel tired by longer. All he could think of was getting home, and he acted as if he thought that just running would get him there. Now, of course, it would have got him there if he had been running in the right direction. But he wasn't, and so the faster he ran the further he got from home. And as he ran, little Mite cried. Yes, sir, he cried. He suddenly felt very, very small and so dreadfully lonely. Those dangers he had so foolishly laughed at now seemed very real and near. Jolly, round, bright Mr. Sun had hidden behind a cloud, and so no merry little sunbeams brightened the little path. And at last the little path ended. Little Mite sat down and cried. He just couldn't help it. "I—I wish I had stayed at home," he sobbed. "I wish I hadn't thought myself so dreadfully smart."

The young husband to his senses and the film fades out with the pair finding ineffable splendor in the prospect of facing the future together in a two-room flat.

Prominent in the supporting cast are Paul Cavanagh, Helen Westley, Billie Burke, David Niven, Katherine Alexander and Ruth Weston.

ATLAS PRESENTS ARGENTINE FILM

"Hi Gaucho," Gay Musical Story of Early Nineteenth Century. Current Feature

Adding lyrical beauty and musical color to the fast action of the picture, five new songs are heard in "Hi Gaucho," new RKO Radio screen musical-romance depicting a gaucho's wooing of a blue-blooded aristocrat in Argentina in the romantic days of the early nineteenth century, which opens today at the Atlas Theatre.

Written and composed by Albert Hay Malotte, each song expresses some phase of life of the hard-riding, stout-fighting, reckless, romantic sons of the pampas. "Song of the Open Road," the theme melody of the gauchos, for illustration, is sung by John Carroll, male lead of the picture, and a gaucho chorus.

The wild life of Argentine bandits finds its musical outlet in the "Bandit Song," presented by a chorus of twelve men.

Two solos by Carroll, "Little White Rose" and a moonlight serenade, emphasize the warmth and depth of love. A folk song represents the spirit of this daring people.

DOMINION All phases of screen theatre entertainment were brought to the screen last night with the showing of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Absolute Quiet." Comedy, stark drama, breath-taking thrills and melodramatic action were deftly coupled together to make a most enjoyable picture.

CAPITOL A new romantic team theatre thrilled the audience of the Capitol Theatre last night with the showing of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Unguarded Hour." The team is composed of Loretta Young and Franchot Tone, who are supported by a cast of notable players in the mystery thriller. Miss Young, appearing in absence from the screen of several months, never looked more ravishing.

Columbia Offers Western Picture

Here is a musical western that is more than a pleasing blend of music and action. Gene Autry rode hard and sang melodiously in the showing of the Republic production, "The Singing Vagabond," which opens today at the Columbia Theatre.

Ann Rutherford makes a beautiful and charming leading woman, giving a most gratifying performance in her role of Little Morgan. Blonde Barbara Pepper is more than satisfying in the role of Honey, the show girl, who takes Little under her wing in the hard ride across the prairie.

Smiley Burnette adds another amusing characterization in his role of the scout and pal, to his credit. His harmonizing with Autry was something worth listening to.

Carl Pierson's direction was firm and he kept the picture moving at a good speed. Apparently Armand Schaefer had seen to it that as a vehicle the picture be given more than the usual production care that is accorded a western. Oliver Drake wrote the original, and then collaborated with Betty Burbridge to turn out an interesting story.

Mackenzie Home To Be Preserved

TORONTO, July 22 (C)—Announcement was made yesterday by a real estate firm that the property at 82 Broad Street, formerly the old William Lyon Mackenzie home, had been purchased by a client whose intention is to restore the house and preserve the place as an historical shrine of the original and then collaborated with Betty Burbridge to turn out an interesting story.

SOUTHERN TOUR PARTY COMING

Good Will Organization From Mississippi Arriving Here on Tuesday Next

There's an enterprising organization in Mississippi, one which evidently believes in letting the world know that such a state functions in the United States Union. The organization believes in chartering trains and going places for the purpose of telling the story of Mississippi's progress and picking up facts about other sections of the country.

On Monday of this week a large party left Jackson for a tour which will take it as far West as Portland, where it will turn North to Victoria and Vancouver and East to Calgary and Weyburn. At Weyburn it will turn South and enter North Dakota at Portal.

The tour which the "Know Mississippi Better" train has now started, is the organization's twelfth annual affair under the same management. In all it has traveled 75,000 miles, visited 360 towns and cities, been six times to Canada and three times to Mexico, and has been royally received everywhere. Ex-Governor Dennis Murphy, of Mississippi, is the present leader and general chairman of the organization.

The "Know Mississippi Better" party will arrive in Victoria on Tuesday, July 28. Coming in from Seattle at 12:30 p.m., it will continue to Vancouver at 1:45 p.m., where it will entrain for Lake Louise. In the party are 152 excursionists, hailing from all parts of the state.

British Netters Are Selected by Experts To Retain Davis Cup

Present Holders of Coveted Trophy, Symbolic of Tennis Supremacy, Given Excellent Chance of Defeating Australians—Quist May Not Play

LONDON, July 22 (AP).—With Adrian Quist, Australian champion, injured and possibly unable to play, experts tonight predicted a 4-1 victory for Great Britain in her defence of the International Tennis prize—the Davis Cup—against Australia starting Saturday.

The decision whether Quist, who injured his foot against Gottfried von Cramm, of Germany, in the inter-zone final last Saturday, will play has not been made. Earlier this week, his physician ordered Quist to take a ten-day rest.

The Aussie titleholder's place probably again will be taken by Vivian McGrath, who filled in for him in the doubles and one singles match against Germany. The other half of Australia's bid to recapture the trophy lost in 1920 to the United States will be borne by the veteran Jack Crawford.

OLD FAVORITES

Britain, as usual, will bank on her old favorites, Fred Perry and H. W. "Bunny" Austin, backed up by Charlie Tuckey and Pat Hughes in the doubles.

Both Perry and Austin are in good physical and mental trim, the former demonstrating his fitness in the recent All-England championship, which he won for the third time.

Hughes and Tuckey still are going like a house afire, continuing the form which won them the All-England doubles title a fortnight ago.

FIVE C'S BEAT VICTORIA SIDE

Chalk Up 102 to 46 Triumph in Final Game of Payne Cup Cricket Series

Defeating Victoria by 36 runs yesterday afternoon, at Beacon Hill Park, in the final game of the P. C. Payne Cup series, Five C's cricket team went into a tie for first place with the Hudson's Bay.

Battling first, Victoria lost four wickets for eleven runs, and despite a plucky innings of 17 by Kinch, were all out in an hour for the small total of 46 runs.

Five C's passed this total for the loss of four wickets. Whitehead put on 22 runs, which included four 4's and Quinlan had two 6's and two 4's in his total.

Perry Shrimpton bowled well for the Five C's and took four wickets for 17 runs. Quinlan dismissed six opposing batsmen for 11 runs. Moore and Nation had the best analysis for Victoria.

Hoop Training Ends When Ball Goes Overboard

Workout of Canadian Basketballers Aboard Ship on Way to the Olympic Games Terminates Suddenly—Track Team Captains Named

BY ELMER DULMAGE

CANADIAN PRESS SERVICE—WESTER

ABOARD SS DUCHESSE OF BEDFORD, On the way to the Olympics, July 22 (AP).—Canadian Olympic basketball players had their first workout aboard ship today and Coach Gordie Fuller quickly decided it would be the last until they reach Berlin. After the players had chased the ball around the rain-washed deck for a few minutes, it bounced overboard and the practice was over.

"Tools" Metelsky wanted to dive into the Atlantic after it, but Fuller decided he could get another ball, and good basketball players like the ship's deck aren't so plentiful. The slippery footing prevented the other athletes from working out.

Captains for the men's and women's track teams were elected today. Betty Taylor, the Hamilton hurdler, will captain the girls' team, and Dr. Phil Edwards, the colored Montreal 800-metre man, will head the men's division. Captains of the other teams will be chosen later.

The whole Olympic party attended the ship's masquerade tonight. The Canadians' costumes were colorful, but Sammy Mahon's outfit didn't all. The Hamilton team manager appeared in a nightgown which usually adorns the round

Soccer Eleven Are Dissatisfied With Commission

VANCOUVER, July 22 (AP).—Dissatisfied with the present form of soccer control in British Columbia, seven Vancouver Island football clubs have decided to have all other clubs in the province questioned as regards their stand towards the present setup, it was learned here today.

The decision was made at a meeting of the seven clubs at Duncan on Sunday, July 12, according to a letter reaching here from the secretary of the meeting.

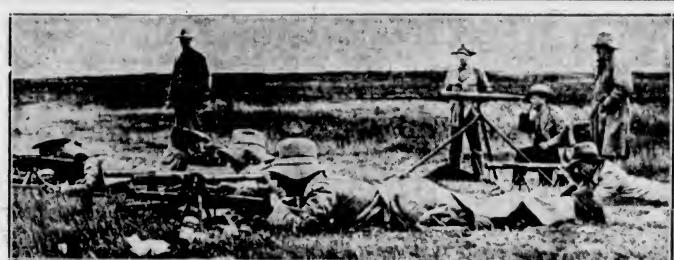

The seven clubs will ask the British Columbia soccer commission to circulate all other clubs in the province, asking if they favor the present soccer commission control of the British Columbia Football Association, which operated prior to the new setup.

The present soccer commission was installed two and a half seasons ago.

The seven Island clubs represented at the meeting were: the Esquimalt Football Club, the Victoria West Football Club, the Victoria City Football Club, the Saanich Football Club, the Duncan United Football Club, the Nanaimo City Football Club, and the Southend Football Club.

The clubs claimed a more democratic form of control is needed in British Columbia.

Reach Semi-Finals in Interior Net Tourney

American and Lower British Columbia Players Gain Select Brackets—Eleanor Young Reaches Final of Women's Singles—Other Winners

KELOWNA, B.C., July 22 (AP).—American and Lower British Columbia racquet welders came through in the majority of events today as play in the British Columbia Interior tennis championships advanced into the semi-final stage under a blazing sun.

Langley, of Seattle, beat out Yolland, of Kelowna, 10-8, 6-0, and Nordstrom, also of Seattle, defeated Homer-Dixon, 6-2, 6-0, to advance into the semi-final of the men's singles.

Williams defeated Clarke, 7-6, 6-4, 6-2, and E. Forst eliminated the third Seattle threat, E. Ewing, 6-4, 6-2, to gain the other two spots in the semi-final bracket.

The ladies' singles saw Miss Eleanor Young, of Vancouver, beat Miss Pease, 6-2, 7-5, to advance into the final against Miss McCabe, of Seattle, who beat Miss Britton, 6-4, 6-0, to gain the other bracket.

Other results:

MEN'S SINGLES

E. Forst beat T. Yolland, 6-0, 6-4; B. E. Wing beat D. McAllister, 6-1, 6-3; Kennington beat Todd, 2-6, 6-3, 6-1; Verley beat Weldon, 6-1, 6-4; Pearson beat Haley, 6-2, 6-4.

MEN'S DOUBLES

MOORE CLOUTS THREE HOMERS

Phillies' Slugger Gains Berth in "Big Six" Batting Race—Applying on Top

By The Associated Press

Johnny Moore of the Phillies, hammered out three homers and a single yesterday to boost his batting mark seven points to 346 and replace the injured Baxter Jordan, of the Boston Bees, in third place in the National League trio in baseball's batting Big Six.

In the American League, Chicago White Sox slugger, Duke Appling and Rip Radcliffe, increased their first and second-place leads, while third-placer Lou Gehrig, of the Yankees, again dropped by going hitless.

The standings of three leading hitters in each league follow:

League	Player	Points
American	Duke Appling	329
American	Rip Radcliffe	325
American	Lou Gehrig	310
National	Johnny Moore	346
National	Baxter Jordan	340

BARNEY ROSS WINS

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP).—Barney Ross, welterweight champion of the world, won a unanimous ten-round decision over Phil Furr, welterweight champion of the District of Columbia here tonight, in a non-title bout. Ross weighed 142-12 and Furr 141-14.

Softball Teams Battle to Draw

Playing in the semi-final round of the Sunday School League softball championship, St. Aidan's and Central softball nines last night battled to a 17-17 score. The Centennial team held the lead for the first five innings, but St. Aidan's staged a rally to tie up the same. St. Aidan's crashed on the home run for St. Aidan's. The game will be replayed on Saturday at Stevenson's Memorial Park.

First United Tigers won the opening play-off game of the best two-out-of-three for the Junior "B" division cup, when they defeated St. Paul's Presbyterian, 21-10, in a free-scoring game.

ALBERTA'S GOLF SQUAD SELECTED

EDMONTON, July 22 (AP).—The present and three former provincial champions were named tonight by the Alberta Golf Association to carry the Alberta Golf Association to carry the team into the annual inter-provincial team championship. Players who will compete for the Willingdon Cup, emblematic of the team title, are Henry Martell, of Edmonton, this year's provincial titleholder; Stewart Vickers, of Calgary, three-time winner of the crown, and Bob Proctor and "Whit" Matthews both of Edmonton.

Matthews, oldest man on the team, is thirty-four. The others are aged twenty-two.

CAREY'S SINGLE IN NINTH FRAME GIVES ST. LOUIS 6-5 WIN

New Yorkers Now Have Seven-Game Lead in American League Pennant Race—Giants Beat Slipping Cardinals, 8-2—Chicago Cubs Gain 3-2 Triumph Over Brooklyn

AMERICAN LEAGUE

ST. LOUIS, July 22 (AP).—The Browns became the first club to win three straight games over the New York Yankees this year, by coming through today with a 6-5 decision to cut the American League lead of "murderers' row" to seven games.

A thirteen-hit attack, with the aging and ailing "Sunny Jim" Bottomley leading the way with a homer, double and single and Tom Carey driving in the winning run on a single in the last of the ninth, brought the Browns out on top.

Andrews held the Yanks to ten hits, including homers by Joe DiMaggio and George Selkirk, to chalk up his second victory of the season.

St. Louis ... 040 001 001—6 13 0
New York ... 021 000 200—5 10 2
Batteries—Hadley, Malone and Dickey; Andrews and Guliano.

Pitching Duel

CHICAGO, July 22 (AP).—Johnny Whitehead shaded Earl Whitehill in a twelve-inning pitching duel today and the White Sox evened the series with Washington with a 3-2 victory.

"Rip" Radcliffe lined a single off Lewis' glove for his third straight hit at the start of the twelfth and after Rosenthal bunted him to second, scored the winning run as Mike Kreevich lifted a long double to the right field wall.

Both Whitehead and Whitehill went the route, the former giving twelve hits and the latter thirty.

Washington ... 011 000 000—2 12 1
Chicago ... 000 010 010—3 13 0
Batteries—Whitehill and Bolton; Whitehead and Sewell.

Indians Win

CLEVELAND, July 22 (AP).—Pitcher Johnny Allen and nineteen hits, two of them home runs, gave the Cleveland Indians an 8-3 victory over Boston today and lightened the tribe's grip on second place.

Roy Weatherly's homer in the second brought in Hal Trukey ahead of him. Earl Averill's sixteenth home run of the season gave him four out of five hits for the day.

It was the tribe's twelfth win in fourteen games and its eighth straight triumph over Boston.

St. Louis ... 000 000 210—3 10 1
Cleveland ... 022 020 028—8 19 0
Batteries—W. Ferrell, Russell, Henry, Walberg and R. Ferrell, Allen and Fylak.

Tigers Go Under

DETROIT, July 22 (AP).—Philadelphia overcame a five-run Detroit lead, batted Elden Auker out of the box in the fifth and defeated Detroit, 7-6, today in the third game of the series.

The Athletics' scoring was confined to two innings, the third and the fifth.

Philadelphia ... 003 040 000—7 13 0
Detroit ... 410 000 010—6 11 0
Batteries—Fink and Hayes, Auker, Phillips and Hayworth.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP).—The revived Giants shot into third place in the National League today by clubbing St. Louis Cardinals, 8-2, with a home run barrage against George Earnshaw.

The defeat dropped the Cardinals to three full games behind the league-leading Cubs, who won over Brooklyn today.

Mel Ott's nineteenth homer, Gus Mancuso's seventh and Hank Leiber's fifth, featured the Giant attack and enabled them to win, although outlasted 10-8.

Ott's round-tripper into the lower rightfield stands started the scoring in the first inning. R. H. E. St. Louis ... 000 200 000—2 10 0

New York ... 110 200 408—8 8 1
Batteries—Earnshaw and V. Davis; Gable and Mancuso.

Cubs Triumph

BROOKLYN, July 22 (AP).—Larry French and Frank Demaree combined today to turn back the Dodgers, 3-2, for the second straight day and boost the Chicago Cubs' National League lead to three full games.

French not only held the Dodgers to eight hits, but his double in the fourth drove in two of the Cubs' three runs. R. H. E. Chicago ... 010 200 000—3 7 3
Brooklyn ... 011 000 000—2 10 0
Batteries—French and Hartnett; Mungo and Berres.

Hits Three Homers

PHILADELPHIA, July 22 (AP).—Johnny Moore hit three consecutive home runs today as the Phillies whalloped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 16-4, to even the series at one game apiece.

Moore hit for the circuit in the third, fourth and seventh innings, scoring for six runs. Chuck Klein hit his sixteenth round-tripper in the second with one on. R. H. E. Pittsburgh ... 004 000 000—4 10 0
Philadelphia ... 423 011 116—16 19 0
Batteries—Brown, Welch, Burkner, Weaver and Padden; Bowman and Atwood.

Five-Run Rally

BOSTON, July 22 (AP).—A five-run rally in the eighth inning enabled Cincinnati to defeat Boston, 7-4, in the National League today, with Paul Derringer registering his ninth victory of the season. Jim Chaplin held the visitors to two hits until the eighth inning.

The defeat was the Bees' fourth straight. R. H. E. Cincinnati ... 001 001 000—7 11 1
Boston ... 201 000 001—4 10 0
Batteries—Derringer and Lombardi; Chaplin, Lanning and Lopez.

COAST LEAGUE

SAN DIEGO, July 22 (AP).—Walter Beck, right-hander, pitched the Missions to a 3-1 victory over the San Diego Padres here today, to even the series at one game each. Beck limited the Padres to six scattered blows.

Five double plays, three by the San Franciscans, featured the contest. R. H. E. Missions ... 3 8 1
San Diego ... 1 6 0
Batteries—W. Beck and Sprinz; Horne, Pilette, Craghead and Desautels.

Angels Beat Seals

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22 (AP).—Los Angeles knocked over the San Francisco Seals, 7-4, today to make it two in a row over the locals. Fenech-busting tactics on the part of the visitors made it a tough day for Pitches Pete Duglia and Lou McVey.

The Angels got off to a five-run lead by the sixth inning. Bottarini started the scoring with a home run in the second. Another rally in the third saw Menner score from second when Boka dropped a pop fly.

The Seals knocked Lieber out of the box in the sixth when Norbert hit a home run with Marty on base, and two more hits brought in a third counter. Berry came in to stem the tide. R. H. E. Los Angeles ... 7 12 1
San Francisco ... 4 10 1
Batteries—Lieber, Berry and Bottarini; Duglia, McVey, Mails and Monzo.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

Strong Man Champ at Seventy—In open competition for strong men at the Boston Y.M.C.A. recently, seventy-year-old John Y. Ripley made them all sit up and take notice when he did a two-hand stand (and, from the floor overhead of 175 pounds. Again, placing clenched fingers against the inside of the bar and set right angles to it, using thumbs alone for grip on the outside, he curled from the floor overhead 165 pounds. During the past year Smith has done a one-hand dead lift of 407 pounds with either hand, and challenges any man in the country, no matter what his age or weight, to defeat him at his own lifts.

Forty-Pound Anklets—The native girls of Africa are the fashion leaders of the world when it comes to personal adornment. Among the various tribes, I have seen not only anklets of heavy wire and iron that weigh more than forty pounds, but ten and fifteen-pound earrings, nose-rings and mouth decorations. During the building of the Kenya and Uganda Railway from the port of Mombasa to the colony of Uganda, the contractors lost hundreds of miles of heavy copper and galvanized wire, and thousands of rail bolts and telegraph insulators, all of which the natives pilfered, to be in style. Even today the railway must keep the closest watch over their properties because the native like nothing better for earrings than a railroad spike pulled from a cross-tie.

Security Prices Close Lower at New York Mart

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP).—The stock market slumped today after its recent lengthy bullish reaction. With the last climbing, barring only a slight interruption since July 8, some traders became a bit nervous and declared that profit-taking discretion probably was wiser at the moment than stand-pat valor.

The Associated Press average of fifty stocks was off 4 1/2 points at 67.3, against an advance yesterday of 3 1/2. Transfers totaled 1,453,350 shares, compared with 1,582,940 in the preceding session.

Chrysler forged ahead to a new six-year top, and some others registered high marks for the recovery shortly after the opening. The motor leader and many more retreated later under realizing pressure.

Reflecting greater public demand for consumer goods, gains up to a point or so were shown by mail order house stocks. Others ahead included American Telephone at 170-1/2.

U.S. Government and high-grade corporate bonds displayed independent strength in the listed market, while issues that usually reflect stock trends were a shade lower.

Foreign-dollar bonds did little either way. Cuban 5 1/2's were 1/8 higher at 47 1/2 and Italian 7's and 8's edged forward for small gains. Norway 6's dropped about a point.

Jane Dixon Says:

NO WOMAN CAN BE AN EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPER AND A FULL-TIME JOB HOLDER AT THE SAME TIME—OVERWORK CAUSED THIS WOMAN TO COLLAPSE

Which is it to be: the house or the job?

No woman can be an efficient housekeeper and a full-time job holder at the same time.

"If her job is important and she is adequate to it, she must leave the labor of her household, the domestic chores and actual physical effort necessary to keep it in order, to hirelings."

She cannot work all day at office or shop or profession, then rush home and turn out a tastily cooked, well-appointed dinner for her husband, herself, her children and her guests.

Housekeeping, at its peak, is a profession in and of itself. Cooking is an art. Both require time, thought, skill, work.

What woman who faithfully believes she can give her best to her job and to her home, too, would consider holding the job and hiring out to her neighbor of housekeeper?

Yet her own home is more important to her than that of her neighbor.

Very often happiness makes us greedy.

"I'll keep my job," says the happy bride, "long enough to buy that love seat for the living room and a few real Oriental rugs and some extra silver and a better car than he can afford and—"

THE PAY CHEQUE RANKS FIRST

The "aids" never stop. They go on and on. In fact, they multiply so rapidly that in no time at all the bride can't see how she and the bridegroom possibly could make ends meet without her pay cheque.

She hangs on desperately until—comes the crash!

Her health is shattered or—her home has disintegrated—or her job is gone.

Wives—be important job holders and complete housekeepers by necessity only. Otherwise, use a part of your pay—all of it if necessary—to employ a competent substitute housekeeper for you. That is if you prefer your job outside to your home work.

OVERWORK LEADS TO TRAGEDY

Dear Jane: I'm on: I'm so blue and despondent and entirely miserable that I thought you might help me.

My problem is not another woman, nor another man. It's not mistreatment or anything like that. I'm well this side of my thirtieth and have married a number of years.

My husband loves me devotedly and I love him the same way.

When we married I continued with my beloved position, which was an excellent one, until my health broke.

I realized I was doing too much, keeping my home and keeping my job. But I loved it. Suddenly I collapsed. I went to one doctor after another. I rested. This happened a couple of years after my marriage and I never have regained my health. The best doctors available insist my trouble is not organic, but functional. In other words I'm sick, not imagining, but they can't seem to do anything about it.

I'm not the same person.

My friends seem to get a hold on life. I'm utterly alone. I make those about me the same way. I never feel like going places. I'm no longer a companion for my husband. I'm not up to accompanying him places, although I long to do so until the longing becomes an agony.

Would it be wise for me to drift on a while in hope of recovery, or should I make an effort to break away and let my husband have some life before his love for me gradually dies?—Bewtdeerd.

Answer: Don't give up the ship, my dear. Any woman who is as conscious of her condition and as self-observing as you, willing to deprive herself of the man she loves for what might be his benefit, and still have some little introvert job-bugs hidden away in your heart and mind. Chase them out. You had your job. It's finished. Now there's a New Deal.

Your trouble appears to be mental.

If you will concentrate on your husband, your home, your New Deal as you did on your "beloved job," there'll be no more agonising but plenty of agility in your life.

A woman who can't do one work well should be able to turn to a new work without regrets, and without stumbling into a state of chronic collapse. I wish you well.

STEEL GIRDERS FOR
BRIDGE ARRIVE AT NEW WESTMINSTER

NEW WESTMINSTER, July 22 (P)—Welded steel girders for the new Fraser River Bridge arrived here today to be placed on the cement piers of the south approach. These girders will form a base for steel lattice work to support the cement roadway approach, expected to be completed by the end of the year. Work is reported progressing rapidly on No. 6 coffer dam and No. 1 caisson and No. 4 caisson, which was tilted to one side by Spring floods.

MIDNIGHT AND PERCY JONES

by VINCENT STARRETT

CHAPTER XIII

"I don't know what my thoughts were at the minute I saw you, Riley," Zella Lansing confessed. "I'd just gone in myself. I hadn't had a chance to ask my questions. I had no idea what I was going to find out. And there you were—on the pavement."

"What did you do?"

"I grabbed that Hindu by the arm and told him to hide me quick. And if a man comes in and asks about me," I said, "I'm not here. I've never been here." He was a sport, and so you missed me."

"No doubt it paid him well," said Blackwood dryly.

"Five dollars," she agreed and added, "All for nothing."

Blackwood was annoyed. It was all very plausible, he admitted. The sort of thing a silly female would do. "I'm sorry you didn't trust me," he said aloud. "We might have got somewhere with O'Hara Singh. If I had stayed."

"I doubt it," she shook her head. "I think he's telling the truth. There was another Hindu last night, Riley—if there was a Hindu, at all."

"Did you know this fellow was there?"

"I doubt it," she said. "I've seen his sign. I wasn't sure of the place—but I found it." She hesitated again and asked her own question: "You believe me, don't you?"

Riley Blackwood shrugged in what he hoped was dubious fashion.

"I've got to—provisionally, anyway," he replied. "The Hindu is the sticking point. You found him rather promptly. Almost as if you knew just where to look—as, indeed, you did. To imagine another one, in the circumstances, is a bit thick."

"That's nonsense. You found this one yourself pretty speedily."

"I know. Don't expect me to be consistent. But, having found this one, you joined forces with him to deceive me. A highly suspicious manoeuvre. Your explanation is fairly plausible, I confess. I half expected something of the sort," he lied. "But you can't expect me to take it without blinking."

The waiter returned with their orders, and for some moments they pecked at them in silence.

"You have expressed doubts concerning Percy's alibi," continued Blackwood, after a time. "But I happen to know there was a kitten."

"She started at him amazed. 'You've found a blue Persian kitten?'"

"A kitten," said Blackwood. "I'm a specialist, and I wouldn't know one kitten from another. Also, I'm slightly color blind. It may," he added, as if conceding a point, "have been blue."

"And then what?" said Zella Lansing. "It gets wilder and wilder. Where was it?"

"I'll make a trade with you. Where is Percy?"

"You think I'm hiding him? After what I've told you?"

He decided to tell her anyway. "So, you see," he concluded, "I didn't actually see the kitten. I deduced it from the saucer."

She thought it over, then nodded agreement. "You're probably right. Then he was there, Saturday night, and she was with him! When, I wonder—and how long!"

"You don't know who she is—or may be?"

"Honestly, I don't."

"Ever hear of a redhead named Anne Gray?"

"Never, who is she?"

"Percy's fiancée, I think."

Her cheeks crimsoned. "That's—no, not so. Percy and I were practically engaged to be married. I don't believe it!"

"You don't want to believe it," amended Blackwood. "Are you and Percy still on good terms?"

"Good enough," Miss Lansing answered was a shrug.

"But there is another—er—young woman?"

"Several, I should imagine."

"H'm! Did he know this Rita Wingfield?"

"I think so—I'm fairly certain of it." Her eyes lifted. "Oh, I know he did!"

"Have you reproached him about her?"

"I suppose so—yes!"

He thought again of the letters Dallas had slipped into his pocket. "In writing possibly?"

"Possibly."

"It's a sweet mess," admitted Blackwood. "You may have thought you had a motive for abolishing Rita yourself. Well, stick tight to the story you told Dallas, Saturday night—for I think he's found your letters to Percy."

Her cheeks went pale for a moment, then reddened again. "He couldn't think that I—"

"My dear girl," said Blackwood, not unkindly, "You have no idea what thoughts that bull-dozing policeman can think. For all I know, you may really have killed the girl—though I think you were almighty quick about it, if you did. Your story hasn't helped to clear things for me. I suppose you are convinced, at any rate, that there is a connection between the murder of Rita Wingfield and Percy's disappearance?"

She smiled faintly. "I'm afraid I am. It's what started me investigating. But I didn't kill her myself, Riley! Probably because I never had an opportunity. I'd just as soon."

"I know," said Riley Blackwood, "but don't tell Dallas that. Just go home and wait for him to arrest you, if that's what's on his mind. And stick to what you've already told him. Don't let him know anything about it."

He resolved to startle her again, as he had about the kitten.

"Listen, Zella," he began significantly. "Last night I was on the fire escape outside of Rita's apartment. Something was going on inside—in that back bedroom occupied by the housekeeper."

She met his eyes with frowning interest, but without visible motion. "What do you mean?" she asked.

He told her, then watched the excitement develop in her eyes.

"Janice Hume!" she said at last. He could almost hear the pieces of a puzzle clicking together in her mind. Then she was paler than ever he had seen her before, and her hand reached quickly across the table and seized his wrist. "Then she did it, Riley! What time was Rita Wingfield murdered?"

"Some time between twelve-thirty and one o'clock."

And Percy came at a quarter of one! She was on hand when he arrived. But, before that, we were dancing—you remember?"

"I was with Janice, myself," said Blackwood. "For a few minutes before Percy's arrival. What's on your mind?"

"Janice was on that fire escape, herself, that night—after the police arrived—after you had gone downstairs to join them. I saw her. I even spoke to her. I thought it was just her curiosity. I went into the kitchen to sneak a drink of whisky, after that sloppy punch, and she was just coming back."

"Through the window?"

"Don't be silly! Through the rear door. It's only a step from it to the door in the passage. I looked a little guilty, I suppose, and so did she, but she spoke up bold as brass. 'I've been on the fire escape,' she said. 'I think the troupe's taken floors down. I can almost hear their voices.'"

"It's interesting," admitted Blackwood. "In view of what I saw last night. Some time after one-thirty that would be. The police were there at half-past one. Well, the woman knows something!"

"She knows who murdered Rita Wingfield—if she didn't do it herself," said Zella Lansing. "She may know what's become of Percy. What are you going to do about it?"

"I'll have a talk with her, of course."

Miss Lansing looked particularly malevolent. "And let her pull the wool over your eyes," she observed, a trifle bitterly. "I'll have a talk with her, myself. I've got it on my mind. You've got to trust me. I'll tell you everything she says."

Blackwood slipped at his coffee. "If you don't agree," she added coolly. "I'm off to the police. I've had enough of private detective work. He began to like this redheaded virago whom previously he had despised, although precisely what she saw in Percy Jones was still a mystery. It seemed even probable, now, that she had been telling him the truth throughout.

"All right," he agreed. "I think you can pull it off, Zella. I've an opening tonight—Mrs. Hathaway's 'Freakshow' at the Criterion Meeting in the lobby at 8:15."

"Eight-fifteen," said Zella Lansing briskly. "I'll be there."

At 8:20, however, she was still conspicuously missing. Blackwood—curious himself for a sentimental fool—scrawled her name

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

A RAY OF HOPE FOR THOSE WITH CANCER OF THE STOMACH

It would seem that a ray of hope for patients with cancer of the stomach (even of large size) has now appeared.

Dr. W. Walters, Mayo Clinic, in Minnesota Medicine, says that the proper treatment of cancer of the stomach, regardless of its size, is to have the patient undergo an "exploratory incision" which means opening the abdomen and permitting the surgeon to see the condition of the stomach. This is not done, nor is operation usually done, if there are evidences of cancer in other parts of the body.

Usually when the X-ray shows that the cancer is too large or is in certain positions, no attempt is made to operate, as it would only hasten death. However, Dr. Walters states that in 10 to 15 per cent of the cases in which the X-ray seems to show that it is too late to operate, the removal of the cancer may still be accomplished by operation.

It happens at times that large cancers will be found to be slow in growth, and not severe in their effects, and causing no growth elsewhere. The removal of this type of cancer often gives a permanent cure, particularly in elderly patients. "At the Mayo Clinic, the finding of an extensive cancer in the stomach, and even when there are extensions of the cancer in the adjoining lymph nodes, is viewed from the standpoint that, unless the cancer is removed, the patient is doomed to an early death. In several cases the total removal of the stomach has been performed successfully at the clinic, and patients have lived comfortably for two and three years afterwards."

Naturally, this means that operation will now be performed in cases that were formerly thought to be past the operation stage.

Another point is that it is not the age of the patient, but his general condition that is a factor as to the wisdom or safety of the operation.

A further important discovery was that many of the small growths or defects in the stomach, as revealed by the X-ray, some of which were thought to be "innocent" growths, not cancers, were found on operation to be really cancer, and, of course, early removal meant the saving of the life.

Remember the advice of our cancer organizations: "Cancer of the stomach in the early stage is the easiest type to cure; in the late stage, the most difficult."

What Today Means

"LEO"

If July 23 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:10 to 11:10 a.m.; from 1:10 to 3:10 p.m.; and from 8:10 to 10:10 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:10 to 9:10 a.m., from 6:10 to 8:10 p.m., and from 10:10 p.m. until midnight.

Do not allow anything to cause you to lose hope on this day. No matter how dejected things may seem, conditions apparently are due to improve. Influences conducive to your becoming affluent appear to be active. Guard against surrendering to any feeling of lassitude, for through indulging in inactivity an opportunity to advance "our interests" might be lost. In summer-time circles inactivity will be the leading cause for losses occurring. The wise businessman will remember politeness costs nothing, especially in dealing with salesmen of other firms. Social connections in numerous cases on this day are going to be subjected to a severe strain through the indiscreet wagging of tongues, so watch your tongue. Married and engaged couples, as well as those with matrimonial aspirations, should remember that personal taste varies, and sarcastic comments about one's individual opinion are liable to be offensive.

If a woman, and July 23 is your birthday, if you act too quickly on impulse, you may find yourself constantly in hot water. Your face is very expressive learn to control it so that it will not show too plainly your likes and dislikes. You may not attach sufficient importance to the possession of money, spending it, perhaps, a bit too freely. You will become very popular, if you do not disregard public opinion, and take foolish chances. Work of an artistic, literary, or educational type is apt to offer you the best chance to win recognition. Any plans you have pertaining to your matrimonial future are likely to be realized.

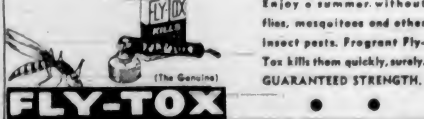

The child born on July 23 might, during its school days, have little difficulty in being a class leader, for it should possess all the attributes leadership requires. Its outlook for the future is bright, and wealth evidently is going to play an important part in its life.

If a man, and July 23 is your natal day, you are probably a man of many worth-while attainments. Versatile, courageous and honest, your chances for success are excellent. Work of a scientific, journalistic, educational, or financial nature, might provide you with the opportunity to make "big" money.

STUDIES

Studies serve for delight for ornament, and for ability. Their chief use for delight is in private hours; for ornament is in dis-course; and for ability is in the judgment and disposition of business. For expert men can execute, and perhaps, judge of particulars, one by one; but the general counsels and the plots and marshalling of affairs come best from those that are learned.
